

BRIAND TO ADDRESS ARMS CONFERENCE TODAY,
IN OPEN SESSION, ON MILITARY ARMAMENTS

British Public Opinion Opposed to Anglo-Jap Pact

STEED DEPRECATES
ERRONEOUS VIEWS OF SOME WRITERS

Clause in Treaty Says
Britain. Could Not Aid Japan in War With America.

DECLARES THAT PACT
SHOULD BE ABROGATED

Majority of Empire, He Says, Believe Time Has Come When the Treaty Should End.

BY WICKHAM STEED
Editor of The London Times.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Washington, November 20.—In a recent dispatch I pointed out that American opinion is disposed to make the retention or abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance a test question of the reality of British goodwill towards the United States. With all deference to American feelings, urged that this point is not the most tactful way of putting the matter, and that the future of the Anglo-Japanese alliance should be determined in the light of the advantages or drawbacks which from the standpoint of the high interests of the British empire, its continuance might involve. Upon mature consideration, the balance of advantages, which include the prospective influence of the British empire as a whole for the maintenance of peace in the Pacific and throughout the world, seems (I added) clearly to indicate the abrogation of the alliance, irrespective of any arrangement for the limitation of armaments, eminently beneficial though such an arrangement would be as an additional pledge of tranquility.

Notwithstanding this somewhat pointed hint—which has been widely reproduced in the United States—some well-known American writers continue to force the issue of the Anglo-Japanese alliance upon public attention. One such writer says: "I am in a position to state authoritatively that, despite official reassurances given last December by the British foreign office, the United States government considers, on the face of the known texts, that in case of war between Japan and the United States, involving—as it inevitably would—some third nation, Britain, so long as the present Anglo-Japanese alliance continues in effect, is in honor bound to go to the assistance of Japan against the United States. This consideration, as has been often said, but not sufficiently realized, is one of the greatest matters that has now to be threshed out here in Washington."

Another Viewpoint.
Another writer, who obviously is not out of touch with the views of some official quarters, suggests that before bringing into any agreement for the limitation of naval armaments, the United States may ask for the definite abandonment of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. He argues that, for the United States to pledge itself not to build warships for ten years, and to leave the other two naval powers bound together in a defensive alliance with their combined navies approximately double the naval forces of the United States, would scarcely be regarded as reasonable. The idea that a tripartite Anglo-Japanese-American agreement might be substituted for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, he continues, is not popular with the American administration, and would probably never be ratified by the senate. Interpreting the reference in the Chinese memorandum to international "commitments" affecting China which ought to be examined by the conference, the writer concludes that the Anglo-Japanese alliance is one of the commitments referred to.

In view of this position, which may tend to confuse American public opinion, or, if the foresawer of official action, may create a delicate situation, it seems expedient to state frankly the real position of the British empire in regard to the Anglo-Japanese alliance, and thus to obviate the impression that pressure or dictation from any foreign quarter is requisite or that it could or would affect decisions of the peoples of the British empire.

Treaty With U. S.
There are some facts in the later history of the Anglo-Japanese alliance which, even if known to the American public, are certainly not adequately represented by the American public. One such fact is that, in 1911, when Vis-

Dying Statements Of Virginia Rappe
To Be Told Today

Nurses to Whom Girl Talked Will Go on Stand at Arbuckle Trial.

San Francisco, November 20.—Deathbed accusations and explanations of what might have caused her illness, made to nurses, by Miss Virginia Rappe, in connection with whose death Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle is on trial for manslaughter, will next feature the trial of the fat comedian.

The nurses who attended Miss Rappe during her fatal illness testified at the coroner's inquest that Miss Rappe at times blamed Arbuckle, saying: "He hurt me."

At other times, they testified, she didn't know what happened to her and kept repeating: "Do you think Roscoe did anything to me?"

She also confided to the nurses the details of her friendship with Henry Lehman, film producer. The trial enters a new week of taking testimony with the defense having gained a number of small advantages from the testimony of some of the state's most important witnesses. The principal surprise of the trial so far is the fact that District Attorney Matthew Brady has announced that he does not intend to use the testimony of Mrs. Bumbina Maude Belmont, who was the complaining witness at the preliminary examination and who signed the complaint charging Arbuckle with murder. It was her protests to the police and her version of the now famous "gin-jollification" which led to Arbuckle's arrest.

A. A. DELOACH DIES
AT ATLANTA HOME

Prominent Business Man Was Inventor and Manufacturer of the Turbine Water Wheel.

A. A. DeLoach, aged 64, prominently identified with business circles in Atlanta, died at his home, 548 Highland avenue Sunday afternoon, following an extended illness. Mr. DeLoach was owner of the A. A. DeLoach company, in Oakland City, which manufactures mill machinery. He was the inventor and manufacturer of the DeLoach turbine water wheel and friction-driven saw mill engine, which have been sold all over the world.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning by Dr. T. R. Kendall. Interment will follow in West View cemetery, with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

Surviving Mr. DeLoach are his widow, Mrs. Jennie McMillan DeLoach; five brothers, H. A. DeLoach, of Tampa, Fla.; H. H. DeLoach, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Virgil DeLoach, of Norfolk, Va.; A. G. DeLoach, of Milledgeville, Ga.; and a sister, Mrs. Charles Vernoy, of Athens.

Came Here as Page.
Mr. DeLoach, who was a native of Bulloch county, first came to Atlanta as a page in the state senate, during the terms of office of his father, W. H. DeLoach, and his uncle, Robert DeLoach.

Later, after graduating in a business course at Poughkeepsie University, of New York, Mr. DeLoach came to Atlanta in 1880 and established a manufacturing plant on Highland avenue, where he manufactured and sold his own inventions, the DeLoach turbine water wheel and the DeLoach friction-driven saw mill engine. He also manufactured shingle mill machinery and lathes.

In 1896, the plant was completely burned and the patents destroyed. Three weeks after destruction of the plant, however, the establishment had been rebuilt, and was again running at almost full capacity.

Abandons Local Plant.
Ten years later, in 1906, Mr. DeLoach, believing it would be to his advantage to abandon his Atlanta plant and establish a similar enterprise in northern Alabama, left the city and built a plant in Bridgeport, Ala. At the time his Atlanta plant was shipping approximately $50,000 worth of machinery a month.

The panic of 1907 came shortly after Mr. DeLoach was well established in Bridgeport, however, and from an output of $50,000 worth of machinery each month, the production of his plant decreased until the monthly ship-

U. S. WILL DISCUSS
RUSSIA RELATIONS WITH TRADE ENVOY

Boris Litvinoff, Soviet Commissioner, to Visit America for Government at Moscow.

RUSSIANS ARE BARRED FROM ARMS MEETING

Only Present Problems of Trade and Intercourse Between Countries to Be Reviewed.

Moscow, November 20.—Relations between the United States and Soviet Russia are to be discussed in Washington, it is learned here, following an announcement that America has notified Russia that it does not oppose a contemplated visit to the United States by Boris Litvinoff, Russian trade commissioner.

The announcement indicates that the Moscow government has been sounding Washington on various matters, it being specifically declared that the United States will not permit any Russian participation in the limitation of armaments and Far Eastern conference.

Present Problems.

The government announcement, as interpreted here, means that whatever discussion there is at Washington will deal only with present Russian-American problems.

Litvinoff has been acting as a "traveling salesman" for the Soviets, and has visited various European countries, arranging trade treaties and other economic details.

It is believed his primary mission to Washington will be to reopen Russian-American trade channels which have been blocked since the overthrow of the Kerensky regime.

Council Disappointed.

The communication consenting to the dispatch of a Soviet representative was received indirectly, and the resulting conference of the council of commissars was marked by expressions of disappointment over the fact that Russia will be excluded from the disarmament conference and the Far Eastern discussion.

In well-informed circles it is predicted that the Soviet reply to this communication, to be addressed directly to the state department, will urge that Russia be permitted to discuss with the representatives of the other powers such matters as the debts of the czarist regime, and with American representatives the relationship to be established between America and Russia.

FUND IS RAISED TO AID PASTORS

Atlanta Methodist Congregations Give Liberally to Support of Underpaid Ministers.

Collections were taken in all Atlanta churches of the Methodist denomination Sunday morning to supplement the salaries of ministers receiving between $500 and $1,200 annually.

According to the report submitted at the north Georgia conference of the Methodist church at Augusta last week, due to financial depression and the ravages of the boll weevil in the state, many preachers have not been paid in full, which has resulted in many cases in reducing pastors in some districts to a condition of distress.

The results of the collections taken in the Methodist churches of the city are as follows: Trinity, $1,000; Druid Hills, $1,000; Inman Park, $500; St. Mark's, $400; Park Street, $200; Grace church, $100; First Methodist church and St. Paul's M. E. church will take a collection next Sunday, which will be added to the amounts already received. Other contributions from the public are invited.

POSTMASTERS TO AID
IN FINDING MISSING

Washington, November 20.—Postmasters throughout the country have been asked by Postmaster-General Hays to lend a hand in attempts to locate missing persons. Never before, the department announced, has it offered such assistance.

China Provides Paradox
If She Had Arms, World Need Not Disarm
Of Conference on Arms

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Washington, November 20.—It is one of the paradoxes of world politics that this conference for the partial disarmament of the world is assembled chiefly to ameliorate the condition of China, a nation that has maintained herself for 4,000 years, conspicuous chiefly for the fact that she has never armed herself. If China had been armed to her teeth during the last fifty years there would be no need of the nations of the world laying down their arms today. For this conference is sitting and puzzling its head into befuddlement because China isn't safe to be left out at night. If there were no Chinese problem, there would be no Pacific problem, and if there were no Pacific problem we Americans would not care how much gun toting the world indulged in. After we have decided what the spring fashions in mankilling machinery will be next spring, about the only thing left for the conference to do will be to bound China and adjourn.

But bounding China is no easy matter. For no one knows exactly what China is territorially. Possibly Tibet is a part of China; possibly not. It may be that Mongolia is a part of China, but no one is certain, least of all the Chinese. South China may be included as a part of China by the Peking government. But the inclusion is bitterly resented by the Canton government. China is in fact held together by the ties of a strong central government. About the only sure thing politically about the Chinese is their antipathy to a monarchy.

Bound by Race.
Each of the two warring governments—the Peking and the Canton—charges that the Japs are aiding their enemies, and possibly both are telling the truth. Japan might be supporting both secretly to keep them fighting. Language does not bind China. Admiral Tsai, the other day, in a public address in Washington, declared that the people in the south part of the city of Peking speak a different dialect from those in north Peking, and he said that the surprising thing to a Chinaman about Americans is that the Marylanders and the Pennsylvanians speak the same tongue. The thing that binds China is race. And in dealing with the Chinese question the conference will have to forget boundaries more or less, and the modern political ties that hold political minded nations together in national unity. We must consider China as a racial unity. China at this conference has for the leader of her delegation, two brothers-in-law: the ambassador to England, who are under the influence, more or less, of their wise old father-in-law in China. He was the father of the first wife of the ambassador to England, Mrs. Wellington Koo, who died three years ago of the flu.

Conspicuous Figure.
Koo, in many respects, is one of the most remarkable of living Chinamen, and one of the conspicuous figures of the conference. He seems astonishingly young, yet he is in his early forties or late thirties. He is easily the best dressed man at the conference, and delights in a certain festive pink shirt which he tones down with the most correct and sober black coat and trousers, cut in what we Americans vest of the Mississippi river, are pleased to call "nob" fashion. His collar is a bit temperamental and of a certain collegian jousness that cheers but does not inebriate. It is in his kid glove button dress shoes that he reflects his most salubrious Oriental moods. In those shoes with a jigger of emotional symbolism sketched in by his suitable sox, like bitters, Mr. Wellington Koo makes a sartorial cocktail that is rather better than "nippy."

Not Mr. Koo in his grand and glossy and peculiar English togs looking like an elderly satyr in black meal socks, nor Mr. Hughes in his suppressed neckties and revealing Freudian vestees, nor even M. Viviani, in one of his gorgeous purple gouches, is the figure that Mr. Wellington Koo is when he strolls down the diplomatic primrose path into the Pan-American building. And topping his tailor's artistry, Mr. Koo wears a smile that is simple and bland. Back of the smile he carries a rather complete and dangerous set of brains.

The Japanese, when conferring with Mr. Koo, would do well to hire an interpreter. The Japanese and the Marylanders speak the same tongue. The

Continued on Page 3, Column 8.

Her Two Ambitions Realized
Mrs. McLendon Goes to Reward

Lived to See Liquor Outlawed and Woman Granted Right of Suffrage.

Mrs. Mary Latimer McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, pioneer suffrage leader and one of the most noted women in the state, died Sunday afternoon at 4:50 o'clock at Davis-Fischer sanitarium, following a lingering illness.

She lived to see the national enfranchisement of women, an ambition she had cherished and for the fulfillment of which she had fought for more than thirty years. Mrs. McLendon was 81 years of age at the time of her death, five years younger than Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, her only sister.

Perhaps no other two women ever occupied a more prominent place in the life of Georgia than Mrs. McLendon and Mrs. Felton. Both have been militant workers for the political advancement of their sex. Mrs. Felton is a widely-known writer and Mrs. McLendon had written numerous articles in southern newspapers and magazines in the interest of suffrage.

Held Many Offices.
In addition to being president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, having been named leader of the organization in 1891, Mrs. McLendon was honorary president of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association; state superintendent of the medal contest work of the Women's Christian Temperance union; president of the Fulton county W. C. T. U., and president of the Atlanta Frances Willard chapter of the W. C. T. U. She had been a member of the Trinity Methodist church for more than forty years.

Mrs. McLendon was born in June, 1840. She was a first home graduate of the Southern Masonic Female college, conducted at the time of her graduation, in Covington. Mrs. McLendon's public activities first began as a member of the W. C. T. U., then fighting for a foothold in Georgia. Also, in this fight, she realized her dream of seeing intoxicating drink outlawed by the national congress. Her activities in the cause of temperance have been recognized throughout the south.

Mrs. McLendon was the mother of three children, a daughter, Mrs. Wil-

Gobblers in Lyrly
May Sidestep Ax
In Turkey Boycott

Lyrly, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—There is a turkey boycott on in Lyrly.

Despite efforts made by local produce dealers to buy up a number of turkeys for Thanksgiving, farmers have refused to sell and next Thursday's Thanksgiving dinner may have to be made of something beside turkey. There is a scarcity of turkeys in the country around Lyrly and those who possess them are asking a stiff price, with the result that none are on the market.

Key to Welcome Delegates to American Farm Bureau Federation at Taft Hall.

FARMERS' BUREAU
OPENS CONVENTION
IN ATLANTA TODAY

Key to Welcome Delegates to American Farm Bureau Federation at Taft Hall.

HARDWICK TO SPEAK
AT FIRST MEETING

Soule to Discuss Agricultural Problems of South and Methods of Meeting
Them.

Farmers from every section of the United States and the leading experts on agricultural questions of the country will gather at the Auditorium at 10 o'clock this morning for the welcoming session of the third annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The first meeting will be featured by addresses by Mayor Key, Governor Hardwick, James W. Morton, of Athens, Ga., and Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State Agricultural college. All general meetings of the convention will be held in the Auditorium, while group meetings will be held at places to be announced later.

The convention, at which 46 states are represented, will continue through Wednesday, with the Piedmont hotel as general convention headquarters. Preliminary meetings were held by publicity directors, the executive committee and the National Fruit Growers' committee of 21 Saturday, following a meeting of directors of the information department Friday.

Address of Soule.
A feature of the Monday meeting will be an address upon "The Crisis in Southern Agriculture and How to Meet It," by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia Agricultural college. The address of the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, J. R. Howard, will be delivered in the afternoon. The report of the secretary, J. W. Coverdale, will follow the president's address.

Heads of departments of the federation will give talks reviewing briefly the accomplishments of their departments during the past year. In addition to the general office staff of the federation, there are nine organized departments and seven committees.

The financial report will be made by Assistant Secretary-Treasurer Charles E. Ginnels. The department of information report will show the development of the federation since creation of that department in January. The department has been organized to work in eight divisions, those of news, editorials, feature writing, publishing, art, co-operative advertising, farm films and public relations.

The fruit marketing growers' committee of 21, appointed by President J. R. Howard, of the federation, held its initial meeting Sunday, and organized into subcommittees for an intensive study of all phases of the problems connected with the marketing of fruit. In the membership of this committee are represented all the fruit growing interests of the nation.

Work Out Details.
The committee on inter-relationships will work out details of relationships between fruit growers' associations and submit a plan for the organization of new associations.

The publicity committee will investigate the co-operative advertising of fruit and ways and means of increasing the consumption of the product.

The committee on transportation will investigate car supply and character of equipment and study freight rates.

The committee on standardization of packages will study and recommend containers which will insure the honest packing of all fruit for the benefit of the consumer.

The legislative committee will study legislation affecting the fruit industry, particularly as related to tariff, pure fruit juice and grading.

A meeting of representatives of fruit growers' organizations from all parts of the nation will be called by Chairman Nichol in about 60 days to consider the reports of the various subcommittees.

The American Farm Bureau Federation will establish a department of fruit marketing and the director will work in conjunction with the subcom-

FARMERS' BUREAU
OPENS CONVENTION
IN ATLANTA TODAY

Key to Welcome Delegates to American Farm Bureau Federation at Taft Hall.

HARDWICK TO SPEAK
AT FIRST MEETING

Soule to Discuss Agricultural Problems of South
and Methods of Meeting
Them.

Farmers from every section of the United States and the leading experts on agricultural questions of the country will gather at the Auditorium at 10 o'clock this morning for the welcoming session of the third annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The first meeting will be featured by addresses by Mayor Key, Governor Hardwick, James W. Morton, of Athens, Ga., and Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State Agricultural college. All general meetings of the convention will be held in the Auditorium, while group meetings will be held at places to be announced later.

The convention, at which 46 states are represented, will continue through Wednesday, with the Piedmont hotel as general convention headquarters. Preliminary meetings were held by publicity directors, the executive committee and the National Fruit Growers' committee of 21 Saturday, following a meeting of directors of the information department Friday.

Address of Soule.
A feature of the Monday meeting will be an address upon "The Crisis in Southern Agriculture and How to Meet It," by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia Agricultural college. The address of the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, J. R. Howard, will be delivered in the afternoon. The report of the secretary, J. W. Coverdale, will follow the president's address.

Heads of departments of the federation will give talks reviewing briefly the accomplishments of their departments during the past year. In addition to the general office staff of the federation, there are nine organized departments and seven committees.

The financial report will be made by Assistant Secretary-Treasurer Charles E. Ginnels. The department of information report will show the development of the federation since creation of that department in January. The department has been organized to work in eight divisions, those of news, editorials, feature writing, publishing, art, co-operative advertising, farm films and public relations.

The fruit marketing growers' committee of 21, appointed by President J. R. Howard, of the federation, held its initial meeting Sunday, and organized into subcommittees for an intensive study of all phases of the problems connected with the marketing of fruit. In the membership of this committee are represented all the fruit growing interests of the nation.

The committee on inter-relationships will work out details of relationships between fruit growers' associations and submit a plan for the organization of new associations.

The publicity committee will investigate the co-operative advertising of fruit and ways and means of increasing the consumption of the product.

The committee on transportation will investigate car supply and character of equipment and study freight rates.

The committee on standardization of packages will study and recommend containers which will insure the honest packing of all fruit for the benefit of the consumer.

The legislative committee will study legislation affecting the fruit industry, particularly as related to tariff, pure fruit juice and grading.

A meeting of representatives of fruit growers' organizations from all parts of the nation will be called by Chairman Nichol in about 60 days to consider the reports of the various subcommittees.

The American Farm Bureau Federation will establish a department of fruit marketing and the director will work in conjunction with the subcom-

TO GIVE REASONS FOR MAINTENANCE OF MIGHTY FORCE

French Premier Will Turn Thoughts of Delegates From Naval to Land
Armaments.

"HARBORS NO THOUGHT OF DISTURBING PEACE"

It Is Not Believed That Any Definite Plan Is Ready for Army Limitations.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, November 20.—World attention will shift from naval to land armaments when Premier Briand, of France, speaks tomorrow, before the arms conference. His address, provided for at the last plenary session of the conference, is expected to be a very frank statement of the reasons that impel France to maintain the largest army in the world.

The subject to be covered by the French premier's statement is probably the point of most immediate importance to France in the entire conference. In informed circles, it is expected the address will be a defense of French military prowess which the French authorities hope will absolve that country before the world from any suspicion of aggressive designs on the continent.

In expressing general adherence of France to the American plan for naval reductions, M. Briand, said to the conference:

"When it comes on the agenda, as it is inevitable it will come, to the question of land armaments, a question particularly delicate for France, as you are all aware, we have no intention to eschew this question. We shall answer you in a question of a grave and serious nature for us. The question will be raised—it has been raised—and if there is a country that desires, that demands that the question of land armaments should be raised, it is France."

That World May Know.
"I hope that I shall be able to state publicly what the position of France is, so that the United States and the world may fully know. And when I have tried to prove this, when you have listened to this demonstration, I am quite sure that you will be convinced that France, after the necessities of safety and life have been adequately secured, harbors no thought whatever of disturbing the peace of the world."

Beyond this forecast of Premier Briand's intended utterance, there has been nothing to indicate that land armament questions is to be taken up definitely in Washington.

Hughes May Act.
Following the address of Premier Briand, it was said tonight, Chairman Hughes probably will suggest that the whole question of land armaments be referred to the committee of five for an appropriate resolution dealing with the proposed treatment of the subject.

So far as can be learned, no power represented at the conference, after the preparation of any plan for limitation or reduction of land forces. All delegations are armed with volumes of statistics dealing with armaments, among other armament developments, but neither the United States nor Great Britain has any direct or immediate

The Weather
CLOUDY.

Washington, November 20.—Forecast:
Georgia—Cloudy Monday; rain in southeast portion; Tuesday cloudy, not much change in temperature.

Virginia—Cloudy, probably rain Monday and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

North and South Carolina—Rain Monday and probably Tuesday.

Florida—Cloudy Monday and Tuesday, cooler.

Extreme Northwest Florida, Alabama and Mississippi—Fair Monday and probably Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia—Fair Monday; Tuesday unsettled and colder.

Louisiana—Monday fair, warmer; Tuesday, increasing cloudiness; warmer in east and south portions.

Arkansas—Monday, partly cloudy; warmer; Tuesday, unsettled, probably rain; colder in north and western portions.

Oklahoma—Monday unsettled; colder in northwest portion; Tuesday, rain turning to snow; much colder, with strong northerly winds.

East Texas—Monday, partly cloudy, warmer; Tuesday, unsettled; colder in northwest and north-central portions.

West Texas—Monday generally fair and warmer, except unsettled and colder in the Pan Handle; Tuesday partly cloudy in south; rain turning to snow in north portion, much colder in north and central portions.

SURPLUS PRODUCT SALE IS PLANNED

To place before the agricultural leaders attending the farm bureau convention here the desirability of securing financial aid from the government for exportation of surplus farm products, Carl Vrooman, of Bloomington, Ill., who was assistant secretary of agriculture during the Wilson administration, is in Atlanta attending the meetings of the farmers' federation. Mr. Vrooman cultivates 600 acres of land in Illinois and Iowa.

The country is financially headed for the rocks," Mr. Vrooman declared, "unless it extends aid to the farmers. There is each year in the United States," he continued, "a surplus of agricultural products, of which European countries are acutely in need, and the presence of which in our markets results in lowering the value of our nation's crops by billions of dollars."

Costly to Farmers.
"The value of our yearly agricultural production amounts, let us say, to twenty billions of dollars. Of this production, the United States is capable of consuming or exporting for cash an output to the value of nine billion dollars. The presence, then, of another billion dollars' worth of food stuffs in our markets is an indigestible surplus, and the presence of that surplus renders the value of our farm outputs approximately five billion dollars less than it otherwise would be."

"We may readily see, therefore, that it would profit us to rid ourselves of this surplusage. We have seen the harmful effects of an overproduction inversely demonstrated in the advanced price of cotton subsequent to a lessened output. We have not, however, applied the principle to other farm products."

"Now, although the European countries are in dire need of our farm products, they are unable to pay cash for them; they have valuable securities whereby they might secure our surplus production on credit, provided our farmers were financed in such exportation by the government."

Credit Is Wanted.
Mr. Vrooman stated that he had been endeavoring to secure the passage of a bill whereby domestic and foreign exportation credit might be extended by the government, to the end that the crop surplus might be profitably disposed of, and that his efforts had resulted in passage of the farmers' relief bill, "an unassociated form" of the bill for the passage of which he had striven in Washington. "As passed, the bill secured enactment by congress of legislation, providing that the War Finance corporation be empowered to make advances to foreign purchasers of our surplus agricultural products. No money was advanced, according to the terms of the bill, may be expended outside the United States, and every such advance must be rendered safe by adequate security."

Mr. Vrooman states that since passage of the bill in the present form the production of oats and wheat has declined from 10 to 30 per cent, thereby proving, he declares, that the bill in its present form is not accomplishing the purpose it was designed to serve. He declares that he will again go to congress to reintroduce the bill, and make a determined effort toward securing its passage.

Bill Was Enacted.
The bill, as first presented, he said, had contained two principal features, that of domestic credit and foreign credit to facilitate exportation. Both features were approved by both the house and the senate, passing unanimously in the senate. The house, in committee, however, passed the bill by a two to one vote, despite the fact that the house committee on currency and banking had disapproved extension of foreign export credit.

Mr. Vrooman stated that a gentleman's agreement for passage of the bill existed, with the accredited leaders of the house and senate. In spite of this agreement, however, he declares, the bill was "assassinated" on an occasion when a vote was present, by Chairman McFadden, of the house committee, who acted, he says, at the instigation of Eugene Meyer, director of the War Finance corporation. Meyer had previously threatened, Mr. Vrooman said, to see that the bill was not carried into effect though passed. The "farmers' relief bill," however, from which he declared two-thirds of the power of his original bill had been removed, was finally passed before the recess.

Market Is Needed.
"The most acute need of the farmer today," declared Mr. Vrooman Sunday night, "is that of markets for his surplus crops. If, by a businesslike use of credit, foreign markets may be provided for the very small percentage of our total crops for which there exists neither a domestic demand nor a foreign cash market, it would mean to the farmer the difference between his surplus being made in his behalf. For, while the perfecting of our marketing methods, even though entirely successful, could only mean a reduction by a certain percentage of the cost of marketing, the opening up of foreign markets for our surplus would inevitably bring the price of all farm products, at least up to the cost of production. This would mean an increase in the national income of billions of dollars."

"In face of this stupendous possibility, our farm organizations have not expended one-tenth of 1 per cent of their money, time or influence in pushing this plan, although the leading statesmen of both political parties at Washington have declared it to be entirely feasible, and to be good business and good statesmanship."

Mr. Vrooman was active during the war in securing an increased agricultural production in the south. His efforts in this cause followed numerous requests from southern agricultural leaders that he take steps to aid them in boosting crop production.

FARMERS' BUREAU OPENS MEET TODAY

Continued from First Page.

mittee of the fruit growers' marketing committee of 21.
Resolutions Were Passed.
Resolutions have been passed by the fruit growers' committee, as follows: "Whereas, substitutes for fruit juices are sold as pure fruit juices in effect if not in fact, and therefore, the committee resolved that it urge such legislation or administration of present laws that will prevent continuance of such practices."

"Whereas, the public is often imposed upon by short measure in containers, the difference of the short and full not being apparent to the eye, therefore, be it resolved that we disapprove of such practices and urge the passage of the bill now before congress known as the Vostell standard container bill."

The fruit growers' committee of 21 is the fifth of the commodity marketing committees of the American Farm Bureau Federation to take up the problems of improving the marketing of farm products for the benefit of both producer and consumer.

FEDERATION MEN TO VISIT COLONY

Fitzgerald, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—Arrangements are being made by the local chamber of commerce officials of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway to bring a party of northern farmers who will attend the convention of the American Farm Bureau federation in Atlanta to the Colony city next Friday, the twenty-sixth anniversary of the opening of the colony.

No matter from what state in the north or west the visitors come they will find settlers here from their state, if not from their particular county or township, as the original settlers of this colony came from every state north of the Mason and Dixon line, and are still living here and thriving on their small farms, in which the original colony was divided.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

President James K. Howard, chairman.
Opening session (10 a. m.): Invocation, Dr. S. A. Lee, Trinity Methodist church, Atlanta.
Address of welcome, Julius L. Key, mayor of Atlanta.
Response, James W. Morton, member executive committee, A. F. B. F., Athens.
Address, T. W. Hardwick, governor of Georgia.
Address—"The Crisis in Southern Agriculture and How to Meet It," Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president Agricultural college, Athens, Ga.

Afternoon session, O. E. Bradford, chairman:
1:30 o'clock—Organ prelude.
1:45 o'clock—Address, President James K. Howard. Ten-minute report of the secretary. Ten-minute report of the treasurer. Ten-minute report of the department of organization. Ten-minute report of the department of information. Ten-minute report of the department of legislation. Ten-minute report of the department of research. Ten-minute report of the legal department. Ten-minute report of the traffic department. Ten-minute report of the department of wool marketing. Ten-minute report of the department of grain marketing. Ten-minute report of the department of dairy marketing.

Evening session, W. G. Jamison, chairman:
7:30—Organ prelude.
7:45—Conference singing, Dr. W. H. Walker, leader.
8:15—Remaining reports of departments.
8:45—Election of officers.

Rabbi Saul Kornfeld, a member of the school board of Columbus, Ga., has just been nominated by President Harding to be Minister to Persia.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage and Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Can Tell—Brush It Through Hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—(adv.)

WE SELL FORD CARS

A. L. BELLE ISLE—IVY 507

Points at Issue in Express Litigation Are Explained

Exhaustive statements explaining various phases of the express hearing which began in Atlanta Wednesday before Examiner Woodrow, were issued Saturday by both sides of the controversy. One statement was issued by J. B. Hockaday, president of the Southeastern Express company, the plaintiff in the interstate commerce commission litigation, against the American Railway express company, and the second by Attorney Robert C. Alston, counsel for the defendant company. Examiner Woodrow adjourned the hearing temporarily Saturday. It will be continued at a later date.

BY J. B. HOCKADAY.
President Southeastern Express Co.
The principles of the Southeastern Express company are expressed in the following language: "Open routes, open rates from point to point, competitive service, operation of through cars in the avoidance of transfer en route, and recognition of shippers' routing."

So far as the public is concerned, the effect of the express business by the several express companies should be the same as if one express company had handled the traffic. The system of express companies heretofore observed by all express companies was originally prescribed by the Interstate Commerce commission. Individual express companies then, or more express companies than in existence, were treated as a unit and the rates applied from point to point, even locally, as if a single line of one express company or jointly over the lines of two or more express companies, via all available routes.

The effect of the express business by the several express companies should be the same as if one express company had handled the traffic. The system of express companies heretofore observed by all express companies was originally prescribed by the Interstate Commerce commission. Individual express companies then, or more express companies than in existence, were treated as a unit and the rates applied from point to point, even locally, as if a single line of one express company or jointly over the lines of two or more express companies, via all available routes.

The present case pending in the interstate commerce commission, which has been on trial in Atlanta this week, was brought by the Southeastern Express company to force a part of the traffic which now moves in this through train into the cars of the Southeastern company at Washington, thereby depriving the American company of about two-thirds of its earnings on such business.

Would Take Away Business.

If this should succeed, it would mean that enough business would be taken away from this train to completely kill it.

That would mean that the service would lapse back to what it was before the improvement. What it is intended to accomplish is to this eastern traffic is also purposed as to shipments from other points.

All of this is proceeding under such catch phrases as "open routes," "the right of shippers to route," "free competition," etc., but its purpose is to kill off the best express service ever known.

To have the Southeastern Express company succeed in killing this train would be about as great a calamity to the business interests of the state as the enactment of an income tax act by the legislature.

It is the law that the carrier which originates shipments is responsible for them to the time of their delivery to the consignees. From this it follows that the originating carrier must make provisions to take care of the business it receives; it must hire men; it must acquire real estate; it must pay railroads, and it must maintain a great fleet of trucks and wagons in order that prompt delivery may be made. Of course all of that costs money.

If the originating carrier is to have these obligations it follows that it must have its revenue fixed by law for the service.

Asks for Reason.

If an originating carrier cannot perform reasonably adequate service it should turn its freight over to a connecting carrier, but if it performs the service equal to or better than the connecting carrier, what reason is there for depriving the originating carrier of its revenue?

The Southeastern Express company has the half of a baggage car on the Southern railway train No. 35, which gets into Atlanta at nearly the same time as the Seaboard special express train No. 47, which carries many through cars.

It is the object of the Southeastern Express company's case to have the Atlanta business men swap the through train service with many cars for a service performed in the half of a baggage car.

The American company employs more than 650 men in Atlanta, its southeastern division headquarters. It brings many people in Atlanta on its business. It is working in closest harmony with the business interests of the city. In fact, it is one of the most important industries located here.

The American Railway Express company hopes that the business peo-

FIERCE RIOTING IN BRITISH INDIA

Many Die and Scores Are Injured as Troops Fire Into Mobs at Bombay.

Bombay, November 20.—Six more deaths and scores of woundings have resulted from renewed fierce rioting here, the initial outbreak of which featured the arrival of the Prince of Wales for his tour of India.

The fighting, which was only controlled after troops were compelled to fire many shots, was of a very determined nature, and took on the character of a protest against Europeans.

The military had been in control of the disaffected districts ever since sanguinary disturbances occurred simultaneously with the arrival of the British throne heir.

150 Casualties.

Several volleys were fired into mobs Saturday, and it is announced that a check of the casualties reveals that a total of one hundred and fifty persons were removed to hospitals from the scenes of the disturbances.

Six of the hospital cases resulted in death.

One mob "shockingly mutilated" a European girl, it is announced. The Prince of Wales arrived Thursday on the battleship Renown, for a tour of the country. He is to hold a monster reception for the Indian rulers at Delhi.

Many attempts were made in England to prevent the effort in the belief that the arrival of the prince would prove a signal for the unleashing of the gradually increasing Indian ferment.

Precautions Increased.
The elaborate precautions for his safety have been increased. Most trouble was feared from the followers of Mahatma Gandhi, the Hindu "non-cooperationists" leader, but it is significant that this faction is not actively concerned in the present outbreaks. The program of non-cooperation is being continued, Gandhi himself pressed disappointment over the shedding of blood, and announcing his purpose of fasting twenty-four hours weekly. He regretted his inability to prevent Thursday's outbreaks, in which a number were killed.

Radical followers of the parsons are charged with inciting the present disturbances.

SIMS WARNS AGAINST NAVAL CONSERVATISM

Newport, R. I., November 20.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, in delivering his annual address as president of the naval war college to its graduating class of officers yesterday, discussing "military conservatism," referring, he said, specifically to that type and degree of conservatism "which has so often been responsible for defeat in battle and sometimes for national disaster."

After quoting from history to show that there has always been resistance to new weapons or methods of warfare, he said: "The rapid development of the submarine and the airplane during the war, and the continuous development of both, and especially the latter, since the war, have shown that these powerful weapons are still in their infancy; that great possibilities of development are clearly in sight; and that it will require the most careful and logical consideration upon our part even to keep abreast of the developments in foreign navies, much less to anticipate those developments."

Indisposition on the part of our navy at once to utilize new ideas, weapons and methods of demonstration, the admiral said, had been "due to a habit of mind that could be indulged in the past with comparative safety, but which is manifestly a danger to a country that has become involved in international politics, and whose policies are likely to be disputed by other powers."

It was found last year at the University of Iowa that of all the sports the athletes playing on the basketball team proved the best students.

The Victrola gives you most for your money

Nowadays, more than ever before, people are intent upon getting their money's-worth, and it is at such times that the value of any commercial product is most accurately established.

The Victrola is not only the standard of quality but the standard of value. It is the product of the immense Victor factories where, because of wider experience and greater manufacturing skill, better goods can be made for less than the cost of inferior products—and the public benefits.

No matter which style Victrola you select it offers the greatest obtainable value at the price—whether $25 or $1500, but look for the Victor trademark on the instrument you buy.

Victrola No. 130, $350
Victrola No. 130, electric, $415
Mahogany or Oak

Victrola IX, $75
Mahogany or Oak

Victrola No. 300, $250
Mahogany or English Brown

"HIS MASTER'S VOICE"
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Victrola

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Victor Talking Machine Co. Camden, N.J.

This trademark and the trademarked word "Victrola" identify all our products. Look under the lid. Look on the label! VICTOR TALKING MACHINE CO. Camden, N. J.

When

—golden autumn leaves whisper peace and good will to you—WHEN chrysanthemums reflect sunshine and the American Beauty rose sings a song of Love and Glory—then you, too, will have won life's richest Treasures—WHEN you behold the bounteous blossoms in the THANKSGIVING DISPLAYS at our stores—you will understand why we are in love with our business—you will understand why JOY'S has grown to be the greatest floral business in all the South.

You Will Be Thankful For Beautiful Flowers and Plants Which Nature Sends to You

Through

JOY'S

Hem. 4214
548 Peachtree St.

"ATLANTA Always Ahead," is Atlanta's Official Slogan. Keep it true by always boosting your city.

THE CONSTITUTION'S WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

THERE is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores or factories.

CREECH COAL

LUMP NUT STEAM

RICH—FREE—CLEAN BURNING.
LOW IN ASH.

Direct Shipments From Mines.
Prompt Service.

RANDALL BROTHERS, INC.

SOUTHERN DISTRIBUTORS.

Ivy 3561

5 Yards.

Peters Bldg.

FAIRBANKS

VALVES WHEEL BARROWS

Carried in Stock by—

FULTON SUPPLY CO.

MILL SUPPLIES AND MACHINERY

Broad and Hunter Sts.
Main 3400

5,000 To Gather in Atlanta For Big Meeting This Week

That is an important meeting that opens in Atlanta for three days—November 21, 22, 23—when some five thousand members and friends of the American Farm Bureau federation will assemble here for the second national convention.

Hardly a merchant or a manufacturer—a jobber or a consumer—irrespective of what line of commercial or industrial activity engaged in, but who is greatly concerned in matters that affect the farming industry of this country. This industry has to do, and is vitally interwoven with every other industry in our land. As a consequence this big meeting in Atlanta will be watched with interest by all classes here.

As an institution the American Farm Bureau federation stands out and has attracted the attention of agricultural people throughout the world, so much so, indeed, that representatives from the various agricultural countries are expected to be present at the Atlanta meeting. Whether or not this forecasts a great world organization of farmers no one perhaps can now say. However, it does indicate how far-reaching the effectiveness of the farm bureau has been. Whatever may follow, bringing these representatives from the overseas countries into the councils of this, our great American agricultural organization, should give all of us a more accurate impression of the relationship that exists, or should exist, between the farmers of this country and those of foreign lands. The condition of the bricklayer in Russia, the coolie in China, and the common farm hand in India, we have found out, have a bearing on the smallest renter on the smallest cotton farm in the south. If the folks overseas are not able to buy our cotton, everybody is affected. So it is a good thing to have these foreign agricultural representatives present at this great national gathering of American farmers.

To Stop Advertising Is Like Shutting Off Steam

Advertising, to be effective, must be continuous, Richard Spillane, business editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, told the Association of National Advertisers in convention the other day. To stop it is like shutting off steam. You may run along easily and well for a time, if conditions or the grade favors you, but when you strike a hill, it is different.

He told a story for which he gave credit to Sherman Rogers, bearing on advertising and strikes.

Rogers, he says, went to Samuel Gompers and various of the railroad union leaders a month ago and told them the threatened railroad strike was doomed to failure and it would be suicidal to order it.

"The public is overwhelmingly against you," Rogers said. "You haven't a chance on earth. You can win any cause that is just if you get the public back of you. It is ridiculous for you to say the press is controlled by the corporations and its pages not open to you. Why, there are 4,000,000 members of organized labor in America. Suppose they contributed one day's pay to advertising. Put the contribution at $2.50 per man. With $10,000,000 you could buy a page in every newspaper in America and have some millions of dollars left in your advertising account. The trouble with you fellows is you've depended too much on force and too little on the power of public sentiment.

"No corporation or group of corporations has the advertising power of labor in a just cause.

"Tell your story to the public when you have a story to tell. The public is with labor when labor is in the right.

"Quit your folly of strike and threat of strike. The cost of strikes to labor goes into the hundreds of millions of dollars a year.

"Use common sense and interest' ink and there'll be more money in labor's pay envelope, more production and more prosperity."

Americans Lead as Property Owners

Latest government reports indicate the United States is one of the most extensive property-holding nations. Records show that of the adults in the United States, less than 20,000,000 can be grouped directly or indirectly as without some material property interest in land, transportation, public finance or industrial securities.

The following facts are based on official government reports and data.

Twenty million persons bought liberty and victory bonds and notes, of whom about 12,000,000 still retain them; 6,000,000 family groups own the homes in which they live; more than 1,000,000 own railroad bonds and 800,000 own railroad stocks; a large proportion of the 6,000,000 farmers own in whole or in part the land which they cultivate, while more than $5,000,000,000 is the average total of bank deposits.

Big Railway Strike Looms in Germany

News comes from across the seas that a battle royal between capital and socialistically inclined labor in Germany is looming up over the demand of the German industrial associations, to turn the railroads back to private ownership.

Organized labor has taken up what they declare to be nothing short of a challenge to a finish fight over the ownership and management of Germany's vast system of 30,000 miles of government lines. The unions see in the move a declaration of war by capital against the socialist parties, whose power is beginning to wane. The success of the schemes to have the world's greatest government-owned railway system turned over to private ownership and operation, it is asserted in socialist circles, would be used as proof of the failure of public ownership, and would be not without effect in other countries where labor and radical political parties are working in the direction of the nationalization of railways, mines, etc.

Slight Drop in Food Cost Is Noted

The department of labor in Washington has just announced that there was a decrease of three-tenths of 1 per cent in the retail cost of food to the average family in October as compared with September, while all food articles decreased 23 per cent during the year ending October 15. The largest decreases during the month were potatoes, 13 per cent; cabbage, 11 per cent; and lamb, 9 per cent. Fifteen articles increased in price during the month, the most notable increases being strictly fresh eggs, 17 per cent; onions, 14 per cent; and butter, 5 per cent. There was a slight recession in the general level of wholesale prices in October, the decline from the September level being a little more than 1 per cent.

A Cantaloupe and a Half for Everyone

More than 153,000,000 cantaloupes—enough to furnish every resident of the United States with a melon and a half for breakfast—were raised in the Imperial valley of southern California this year, according to the Pacific Fruit Express company. Land on which the melons were raised not so many years ago was a desert. Now more than 400 miles of irrigation canals carry water from the Colorado river to Imperial valley farms.

In all 13,000 carloads of cantaloupes were shipped from Imperial valley points this year to Pacific coast and eastern markets. An attempt is to be made this winter in the Imperial valley to produce Christmas melons, the valley fourteen years ago having sent out the first melons ever produced in the country in the holiday season outside of a hot-house.

WILLIAM H. JAMES & CO.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Atlanta National Bank Bldg.
Atlanta, Ga.

Holston National Bank Bldg.
Knoxville, Tenn.

PRINTING

Little Commercial Jobs or Big Catalogs
—all properly produced

Write for copy of our new booklet—"Pride Mark"

RURALIST PRESS, Inc.

116-118 E. HUNTER ST.
ATLANTA

ARROW

LEATHER BELTING

—IS—

BUILT UP TO A STANDARD, NOT DOWN TO A PRICE

Only the Very Best of Material and Workmanship Enter into the Manufacture of

Arrow Leather Belt

"It Sells Because it Satisfies."

—MANUFACTURED BY—

COTTON STATES

Belting & Supply Co.

ATLANTA, GA.

Service On Tap

If the light doesn't come when you press the button, if the gas doesn't flame to the match, if throwing the switch doesn't start the machines—your day's work is lost.

If your day's work is to count, our service must be good.

You get good service today.

To continue that service, additional capital must come to Atlanta.

But if the present service is not sold at a reasonable profit, capital will not come to Atlanta to supply heat and light and power to your children.

GEORGIA RAILWAY & POWER CO.

P. S. ARKWRIGHT, President

HOTEL EQUIPMENT CO.

ATLANTA, GA.

Cake Griddles

Waffle Stoves

Oyster Frying Baskets

— Quick Shipments —

ADAIR & SENTER

Engineers and Builders

HEALEY BLDG.

TEL. IVY 100

ATLANTA

ICE CREAM

Of Quality

PURE, WHOLESOME

NUTRITIOUS

Ask for It At Founts.

TAKE SOME HOME

FOR THE KIDDIES

JESSUP & ANTRIM

ICE CREAM CO., INC.

Get It From Your Dealer

NECKWEAR

of MERIT

ALL-STAR Mfg. Co.

66-70 West Mitchell Street

ATLANTA, GA.

SHIPPERS

Take notice that you can get an

IDEAL STENCIL MACHINE

—with—

Oiled Paper

Fountain Brushes

Water-Proof Ink

Let us tell you about them.

DIXIE

ATLANTA

76 NORTH BROAD ST.

R. S. Armstrong & Bro.

Machinery Dealers

New and Second-Hand Contractors' Equipment Rented and Sold.

Ivy 628-6409. 676 Marietta St.

Tripod Paint Co.

Manufacturers

SUNNY SOUTH

PAINT

STANDS THE SOUTHERN

Outside White

TRIPOD PAINT

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

MADE IN U.S.A.

TAYLOR TIRE CO.

H. D. TAYLOR, Pres.

ALL MAKES TIRES

TUBES and RIMS

OILS AND GREASES

Ivy 4958. 8 W. Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

STORAGE

Why worry about a place for your household goods? Let them be free from your care and store with the best equipped and most up-to-date Storage Company in the South. Remember our aim is Prompt Service and Satisfaction.

STORAGE---WOODSIDE

239 Edgewood Ave. Ivy 2036

BIRD-POTTS CO., INC.

Welding Engineers

376-78 MARIETTA ST.

Electric and Oxy-Acetylene

Welding.

Bodies and Fenders Repaired.

RADIATORS REBUILT—REPAIRED—RECORDED

We Weld Anything—Anywhere.

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

"Oldest Welders in the South."

MILLER LUMBER CO.

QUALITY—SERVICE

Paints—Varnishes—Stains—Builders' Hdw.

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

103 RIDGE AVE. MAIN 3156

TERRA COTTA ROOFING TILE

Only Permanent and Most Beautiful Roof. All Colors.

BEAULLIEU & APPLEWHITE CO.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy 1754. 1317 Citiz. & Sou. Bldg.

Ivy

BIG HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT IS PLANNED

Augusta, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—Augusta is about to go into partnership with J. T. Wood and his associates to equip a hydro-electric plant on the canal. The finance committee of council has recommended to council that it accept proposals submitted by Wood.

The proposition is to generate electricity at a point about two miles from the city and on the canal, and then operate all industries, including the cotton mills, which are now being run by water power. A bond issue of $2,500,000 is contemplated. Wood agreeing to place the bonds. A commission is to be formed to conduct the enterprise, it to be made up of three men selected by the city and three men selected by Wood.

For the present, the investment is to be $1,500,000, to secure a 12,000-horsepower development. The remaining $1,000,000 is to be used to increase the plant output. This 12,000 plant would give 100,000 horsepower over and above the present requirements of the canal industries—to be put into added industries.

The city reserves the right to take over the plant at any time. Sufficient power is to be given the city to operate pumps to furnish 10,000,000 gallons of water daily to the waterworks system. The new organization will undertake the upkeep of the canal and dam, now costing the city about $15,000 a year. The city further is guaranteed an annuity of $50,000, which is much more than is now received from water power charges.

The city will receive a significant amount of land to result from filling in a portion of the first level, and all the second and third level canals. The proposal is most favorable to the city. As it is understood that which prompts Wood and his associates to make the proposal is that they are to establish a steel mill near the proposed new plant, with the right to use the night product of the electric plant for the steel plant.

Cotton and Oil Export Figures Advance Sharply

Washington, November 20.—Exports of cotton and cotton seed oil advanced sharply in volume but declined in value in October as compared with the same month a year ago, according to foreign trade reports issued tonight by the commerce department.

Exports of breadstuffs, meat, and dairy products, and mineral oils, during the month decreased considerably as compared with October, 1920, totals.

Cotton exported October amounted to 874,000 bales, valued at $91,028,000 against 583,000 bales, worth $91,217,000 a year ago. For the ten months ended with October, the total was 5,000,000 bales valued at $488,000,000 against 4,000,000 bales, worth $522,000,000.

Cotton seed oil exports for October aggregated 10,000,000 pounds, valued at $531,000 against 7,000,000 pounds worth $1,000,000 during the same month last year. For ten months, cotton seed oil exports totaled 120,000,000 pounds valued at $224,000,000 against 120,000,000 pounds worth $235,000,000 in the same period last year. Breadstuffs exported October amounted to $133,000,000 as compared with $133,000,000 in the same month a year ago; meat and dairy products totaled $21,000,000 against $27,000,000 for October last year, and mineral oils aggregated 253,000,000 gallons worth $25,000,000 in October compared with 301,000,000 gallons, valued at $32,000,000 a year ago.

Wheat exports October amounted to 18,000,000 bushels, valued $22,000,000 against 25,000,000 bushels worth $29,000,000 last year; flour exports totaled 1,500,000 barrels, at $10,000,000 October as against 1,000,000 barrels worth $18,000,000 in the same month last year. Rice exports for the month aggregated 40,000,000 pounds, worth $1,000,000 compared with 12,000,000 pounds valued at $247,000.

Man Given Limit.

Savannah, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—Judge Carter was on Friday given the limit of sentences possible in the city court—three years and thirty days—for alleged assault upon United States Navy sailor S. E. Neville. He was tried twice yesterday—on charges of violating the prohibition law and stabbing. It was declared that when the sailor refused to buy moonshine from Carter, the latter stabbed the navy man.

What is "A Blessing on Your Head"? ED. PINAUD'S HAIR TONIC of course!

WE SELL FORD CARS
A. L. BELLE ISLE—IVY 507

100 new offices in the heart of Atlanta The new Gould building

No. 9 Edgewood Ave.

Apply room 505 Gould building or M. L. Thrower, 39 Forsyth St.

Thanksgiving Dinner-Dance

Hotel Ansley Rathskeller

$2.00 Plate. Served From 12 Noon to 10 P. M.

DANCING 7:00 TO 11:30 P. M.

Phone Ivy 1100 for Reservations.

Women Should Work for Dower Law Changes, Says Woman Leader in American Farm Bureau

Two pictures of Mrs. Izetta Brown—in evening dress, and at work on her farm.

BY FLORA S. OZBURN.

One of the most interesting, and at the same time most striking, figures of the convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which was held in Atlanta this week, is Mrs. Izetta Brown, a southern woman, and one of the four members of the women's committee of the national farm bureau.

Mrs. Brown, widow of the late Congressman William Gay Brown, Jr., who built from Kingswood, W. Va., sprang into prominence at the national democratic convention in San Francisco last year, when she seconded the nomination of John W. Davis, of West Virginia, for president of the United States. This being woman's first experience in a national political convention, it was, of course, quite an honor to be one of the women to speak, and Mrs. Brown's speech was published throughout the country. It will be recalled that because of its crispness and conciseness it was the "hit" of the convention.

Story of Creation. Part of this was due to the clever little story she told apropos at the time of woman's part in the political and other affairs of the world. The story, which was called "The Creation Story," tells of little Johnny, who, upon his return from Sunday school, was met with the old familiar question by his mother, "Well, Johnny, what did you learn in Sunday school today?" "Oh," said Johnny, "I learned all about the creation, mother." "Tell me about it, Johnny," said his mother. "Well, mother, I said that God created the earth, the animals, the birds and things, and then he created man, and he put him in a garden; then the man went right to sleep and God came down into the garden, took out his brains and made man."

This little story, which reached the ears of seventeen thousand people through the means of the amplifying machines (first time ever used successfully) installed in the huge auditorium, caused a perfect uproar and became the keynote of the convention. One can imagine what an experience it must have been to have heard seventeen thousand people laughing at one time.

After the democratic convention, Mrs. Brown went into many states, speaking on the national campaign, having varied and interesting experiences since then. She has had many flattering opportunities to continue work of this nature. However, she prefers a quieter life, home and the companionship of her little daughter, not quite six years of age, and who was just six weeks old at the time of the death of Congressman Brown.

Engages in Farming. Possessing many acres of land in West Virginia, Mrs. Brown decided shortly after the death of her husband to engage in farming and dairying. She started her "dairy" with one cow, supplying the villagers with milk; and at the present time she has twenty pure-bred cows and a pure-bred bull, her desire being to build up a large herd.

The tract of land owned by Mrs. Brown is part of the Fairfax tract surveyed by George Washington, and the farms, numbering four, are known as the Fairfax farms. All four are worked in connection with the dairy. Of course, I have had to study the building up of soils, rotation of crops many other things," stated Mrs. Brown, when interviewed, "and I have found this all intensely interesting, because I determined to make a success of my venture. With no previous farm experience whatever, I had to start from scratch. I have been able to produce an income, so, naturally, I became interested in farming problems and the farm bureau.

Meeting With Success. "Many women over the country are taking hold of such projects, and meeting with success. "Under the old dower laws—particularly in the south—these laws have left good—widows were never given any real estate in fee—that is, to do with as they pleased—but only received it for use during their lifetime. This works such a hardship on the women themselves that they should be alive to this condition and work for a change in the laws everywhere, because there must be thousands of women who are or have been confronted just as I was, with the problem of real estate which was not income-bearing.

"Very few men have realized the hardships worked on women by the dower laws. I recall the experience of an Italian woman named Durindetta, who came to this country with her husband and worked very hard on a farm which they bought. The husband worked in the coal mines a great part of the time, and the Italian woman carried on the farm work, hoeing the corn and other products, milking cows and doing the many other things that are necessary on a farm. Suddenly the husband was taken ill and died. Under the laws of the state, Mrs. Durindetta found that she was only permitted to use and own a third of the farm, the other two-thirds going to the two sisters of her husband who lived in Italy.

Justice of Laws. "Other similar experiences," continued Mrs. Brown, "have brought the injustice of these laws so closely to my attention that I have become greatly concerned about them. When asked if she was interested in the National League of Women Voters, Mrs. Brown replied in the affirmative; also adding that she was a director in the West Virginia league and one of the organizers in the national woman's party.

Her late husband's father, Congressman William Gay Brown, Sr., was the author of the bill which Congress made West Virginia a separate state. Mrs. Brown is very proud of her appointment on the women's committee, considering it a very great honor. "I am delighted that the women are taking a greater interest in matters pertaining to the farm and farm life. It has seemed rather difficult to avail of their interest up to now. I hope there will be a large attendance of women from Atlanta and the surrounding districts. The convention is to be an open forum in which we desire the women to take part and voice their views; and we are specially anxious to have representative women from all rural communities. Out of this meeting, which is the third annual conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation, we expect to formulate real plans and a program for the women's committee, which is a brand new thing in the federation. It is estimated that 100 women will probably attend as delegates to the convention of the American farm bureau in Atlanta this week, coming from all parts of the country. Only two of this number will speak on the programs of the convention. Mrs. Brown being one of these. She will address the convention at the Wednesday morning session, along with the national secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wallace, her subject being "Whither."

Cotton Market Gossip

New Orleans, November 20.—Prices were higher in the cotton market throughout this last week, although the early session brought only small gains in the futures. In the bulk and trading the market was firmer, and at the highest the trading months were 91 to 105 points over the close of the preceding week, December rising as high as 16.35. In the spot department middling gained 25 points in the net results, closing at 16.50 a pound, against 16.25 a year ago.

Covering by shorts furnished the greater part of the demand of the week, and it was stimulated by hopes of constructive events as the result of the international conference at Washington, the continued easiness of money, smaller spot offerings in the interior and the continued very large mill takings. Buying for long account appeared to be along very moderate lines. At times trade buying was important.

To some extent, business was restricted by the nearness of the census bureau's fifth annual report of the season. At first, some little selling was encouraged by expectations entertained regarding this report, but later on the disposition was to buy because of a private bureau estimate that at the middle of November the crop was 98.8 per cent picked. The estimate from several sources that attracted most attention placed ginning to the 14th of November at 7,291,000 bales, and for a while this was used as an argument that the total crop in the final ginning report of the season, not due until the 20th of March, would be approximately 8,000,000 bales.

In the last two sessions of the week statistics were underlying bullish influence of importance. Hester placed world takings of American cotton at 238,000 bales, against 274,000 this week last year and 404,000 this week two years ago, bringing the total thus far this season up to 4,415,000 bales, against 2,809,000 to the same date last year and 3,489,000 to the same date two years ago. Bullish traders pointed out that the mills had already taken over half of the crop grown this season, although it proves to be as large as the outside figures now prevalent, namely, 8,000,000 bales.

This coming week, the census bureau report on ginning on the open-

TAYLOR IS PROMOTED IN RESERVE SYSTEM

Becomes Director of County Credits of War Finance Corporation.

Savannah, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—R. J. Taylor, manager of the Savannah branch of the Federal Reserve bank of Atlanta, for three years past, has been promoted to the position of director of county credits of the war finance corporation. He will go to Washington to begin his new duties next week. R. N. Groover succeeds him here.

DECIDED INCREASE IN C. S. EARNINGS

Cities Service company earnings statement for the month of October shows a decided increase over September. Advances in the price of oil reflected in earnings for October, were 25 cents per barrel, made September 13, and 25 cents per barrel, made October 2, but the four advances of 50 cents per barrel made November 7 is not reflected.

Gross, $673,872; increase over September, 1921, $233,670. After expenses and interest, $764,260; increase over September, 1921, $233,350. Not to reserve fund and surplus. Net to common, $320,787, compared with $100,440 for September, 1921.

The above statement is given out by the Atlanta office, Henry L. Delberty & Co., Ben F. Noble, district sales manager.

BUILDING ASSURED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Thomasville, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—With the carrying of the bond issue of $25,000 for school purposes in Ochokeene, the erection of a school building for the use of the consolidated schools has become a certainty. The Ochokeene district is the first in the county to have a consolidation of schools, there being four that will be included in the consolidation. A modern school building will be erected and a competent corps of teachers secured, making this one of the model schools of the county. Trucks will be secured to carry the children from the various communities to the school at Ochokeene.

The Robinson-Humphrey Co. Established 1894 Municipal and Corporation Bonds ATLANTA—GEORGIA

Following are the debits to individual accounts at clearing house banks as summarized by Federal Reserve districts: Federal Reserve Nov. 10, 1920.

(In thousands of dollars.) Boston $402,338 $438,084 New York $780,278 $608,028 Philadelphia $313,562 $313,562 Cleveland $373,513 $374,794 Richmond $294,841 $294,841 ATLANTA $100,341 $100,341 St. Louis $155,966 $155,966 Minneapolis $133,066 $133,066 Kansas City $277,000 $277,000 Dallas $130,308 $130,308 San Francisco $470,856 $470,856 Total, 154 cities, $7,314,822 $9,580,265

Sheep gland diet will be given pupils in the sub-normal classes of Chicago public schools in the hope of improving the mentality of the children. The glands will be prepared in the school kitchens and it is expected several thousand children will partake of them.

$1,000 Accident Claim PAID WITHIN SEVEN DAYS

Claim Filed Saturday, Oct. 29
Claim Paid Saturday, Nov. 5

$1,000 For 75c

Parish D. Mercer, Macon, Ga., who died from injuries October 29, was an Insured Reader of The Macon Daily Telegraph in The North American Accident Insurance Company, the same The Constitution is offering to its subscribers.

Check for $1,000 was delivered to his beneficiary November 5, exactly one week after Mr. Mercer's death.

This Policy was No. 1680974, issued to Mr. Mercer on September 21, 1921—only a few weeks ago.

You Can Secure the Same Broad Insurance Policy for 75 Cents If You Are a Registered Reader of Daily and Sunday Constitution

Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance.

HAS BEEN SECURED BY THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION FOR ITS READERS

Will pay the following amounts, subject to the terms of the policy, for death or injuries on a public carrier, due to its wrecking or disablement, while the assured is riding on it as a fare-paying passenger or due to the wrecking or disablement of any private horse-drawn or motor-driven vehicle on which assured may be riding or driving or being thrown therefrom, or for loss of life by being struck or knocked down or run over while walking or standing on a public highway.

North American Accident Insurance Company CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Life	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Both Hands	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Both Feet	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Sight of Both Eyes	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
One Hand and One Foot	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Either Hand and Sight of One Eye	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Either Foot and Sight of One Eye	One Thousand Dollars	($1,000.00)
Either Hand	Five Hundred Dollars	($ 500.00)
Either Foot	Five Hundred Dollars	($ 500.00)
Sight of Either Eye	Five Hundred Dollars	($ 500.00)
Disability, 13 weeks or less	Ten Dollars	($10.00) per week
Life, by being struck, knocked down or run over on public highway by vehicle	Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars	($250.00)
Emergency Benefit	One Hundred Dollars	($100.00)

The above indemnities will be paid, subject to the provisions and conditions of the policy. A complete numbered and registered Policy will be supplied each person. Be sure to read it before filing.

Any person who is a yearly subscriber and pays the regular subscription price, plus a delivery cost of 75c paid with this application. This 75c pays for all clerical charges in connection with the issuance of your policy. The premium on your policy is paid by THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Old As Well As New Subscribers May Secure This Policy

By special arrangement with the North American Accident Insurance Company, we can now give this protection to the entire family on the following conditions:

Any and all members of a family from 16 to 70 years of age may secure this insurance, providing they all live at one address, and provided one member of this family signs for The Daily and Sunday Constitution for one year. If two or more families live at one address in the same house or home, each family desiring the insurance protection must subscribe for The Atlanta Constitution. Each member of the family desiring a policy must sign "Order and Registration Form" and accompany it with 75c for registration fee for his or her policy.

USE THIS COUPON

Order and Registration Form Of The Atlanta Constitution Insurance Subscription

Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, payable in advance, or delivered by carrier, payable to carrier weekly or monthly:

1 week 20c
1 month 90c
3 months $2.50
6 months $5.00
12 months $9.50

In sending the coupon at the right, sign your full name, and always send 75c for registration fee, which is no part payment on subscription.

Atlanta, Ga., 1921

Circulation Department, Age.....

(New—Old)

I, Mr. hereby enter my subscription for The Daily and Sunday Constitution for one year from date, with the understanding that I am to receive a $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance Policy in the North American Accident Insurance Company, and am to pay no more than the regular price of The Atlanta Constitution each week to the regular carrier, plus a delivery cost of 75 cents, which is to be paid on my signing this application. I understand that should I discontinue my subscription to The Constitution before the expiration of this contract, or should I fail to pay my weekly subscription month, if payable monthly, to the carrier or to The Atlanta Constitution, my $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance Policy will lapse.

Signed, City

Number Street

Phone No. Carrier

Occupation

NOTE—75c must be sent with this coupon; your full name on top line; state age, and write signature on lower line, where indicated.

You Can Surely Save

$10 a month so you will be interested in learning how to make it grow to $200 in 15 years. Our 48-page book "How Money Grows" gives full details. May we send you a copy with our compliments?

ALBERT C. OTGEN & CO.

Investment Bankers
16 EXCHANGE PLACE, N.Y.

THE CONSTITUTION

Published Daily, Sunday, Tri-Weekly.
CLARK HOWELL,
Editor and General Manager.

Directors: Clark Howell, Albert Howell,
H. B. Black, H. W. Grady, Clark
Howell, Jr.

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone Main 6006.

ATLANTA, GA., November 21, 1921.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily and 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Sunday $2.50 $7.50 $15.00 $30.00
Daily $5.00 $15.00 $30.00 $60.00
Sunday $1.00 $3.00 $6.00 $12.00
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

J. K. HOLLADAY, Constitution Building, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

The Constitution Washington office is at the Raleigh Hotel, James A. Holloman, correspondent.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue.
It can be had: Holladay's Newsstand,
Broadway and Forty-second street; Time Building corner; Schuchman News Agency, at Bryant Park, and Grand Central Station.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches received at its office, and no other news in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Great Britain has set a good example to the rest of the world in ordering the suspension of operations in her navy shipbuilding yards, pending the agreement of the disarmament conference on a world-wide "naval holiday."

More than that, since Great Britain is the leading naval power in the world, and the nation most jealous of her naval strength, her action in this instance is a good omen portending the adoption and success of the American plan for the reduction of armaments on the sea.

That country has under way
the construction of four super-Hoods, the aggregate cost of which to the tax-payers of Great Britain would be 40,000,000 pounds, or about $200,000,000.
Other naval crafts are also being built, bringing the total cost, when completed to $500,000,000.

If the Hughes plan goes into effect all of those ships would have to be scrapped.

Great Britain's view is aptly expressed by Admiral Mark Kerr, of the British admiralty, who is quoted as saying, "the decision (to suspend naval construction work) is the logical outcome of what is occurring in Washington.
There is no use in spending money in building ships if all are to be scrapped."

It is unfortunate that the other governments to be affected by the proposed plan, particularly that of the United States which originated it, have not seen fit to take the same course.

Announcement from the navy department Friday quoted Secretary Denby as saying that work on the construction of American battleships and battle cruisers will be carried on, despite the action of Great Britain, until it is determined whether or not a definite agreement for halting naval construction can be reached in the conference for the limitation of armaments.

This indicates a questionable attitude of the United States toward its own proposal, and plainly a lack of desire on the part of the administration to spare the tax-payers of the country from the possibility of needless expenditures for naval craft subsequently to be destroyed in compliance with international agreement.

All naval construction work should be halted at once, and kept in suspense at least until the big question now pending in the conference is decided one way or the other.

TRIBUTES TO "DAD."

Evidently there must be more than one "Father's Day" in the calendar now, judging from appreciative tributes to "Dad" from all sources.

Yet nothing out of the ordinary has happened to bring him more in the spotlight.

It seems to be a spontaneous, affectionate tribute, which is not an afterthought, but which was near to where the heart is all the time.
One of the best is from the magazine, The Silent Partner, as follows:

"Don't ever call dad 'The old man.' For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy he ever had, even though you plaster your hair back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes, and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—your mother. He is some man and not 'the old man.' If you win as good a wife as he did you will have to go some, boy."

That's a double tribute—to dad and mother, too; and while it may be suspected that the near approach of the Christmas season may be responsible for the additional pats on the back dad is getting, there is no doubt that he takes them all gratefully and, asking nothing for himself, yet has all in the love and affection of the hearts and homes he has helped to make happy.

A WISE PLAN.

Under the direction of President
W. A. Winburn, of the Central of Georgia railway, that important system is going direct to the public asking for "constructive criticism and suggestions."

This is somewhat of a new policy in railroad management, though under the direction of Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, the parent organization of the Central of Georgia, it has been tried out with conspicuous success in the management of the Illinois Central.

President Winburn, of the Central of Georgia, is now appealing to the public through the newspapers by advertisements dealing with the transportation situation and couched in non-technical terms. He is taking the public freely and frankly into his confidence, by an open discussion of railway problems.

The effect is already apparent, and the management of the Central is being warmly commended for its informative advertising which is attracting widespread attention and which is resulting in public co-operation rather than antagonism.

President Winburn is a man of keen vision, and he very properly believes that it is an unwise policy to wait until something has gone wrong and then to attempt to take care of the situation by explanation. He thinks the better plan is to keep things from going wrong so that no explanation will be necessary. And the best way to keep things from going wrong is to see to it that the public and the railroads understand one another.

The Central of Georgia is the first railway in this section to so freely take the public into its confidence. The plan has worked well elsewhere and it will do likewise here.

HOME SALES DAYS

Attractive "sales days" have proved big business—bringers throughout the state. This is due, in large measure, to advertising campaigns of local merchants.

"Nearly every merchant," says
The Cobb County (Ga.) Times, "has put on special attractions and made the town a veritable department store for one day."

The point is made that this has been organized work—
"The events have succeeded because the merchants have co-operated and have been above board in all their transactions with each other and with their friends who live in the country."

"And so the people have come for miles to buy, not only the specials offered in the sale, but of the general stocks of the stores."

And this getting together of the people, through the medium of advantageous sales days, is a good thing, not only for the present, but the future business prosperity of their towns and counties.

It has its social as well as business features, and is productive of a better understanding of their mutual interests.

On the line of this co-operative work The Worth County (Ga.) Local well says:

"Merchants and business men of a town must co-operate with one another if they would hold the trade in their territory that belongs to them. All business institutions and property owners of a town to be permanently prosperous must be always working together to bring the trade of the territory in their direction or else it will go elsewhere where more alluring inducements are offered."

This spirit of co-operation has contributed to make sales days throughout the state highly successful from every point of view.

The Indianapolis News notes that "the expert mathematicians in that line of business can still divide 47 hogs into 48-cent bacon."

Georgia songs of the fall season indicate that the home-poets are having "a regular hog-killing time of it."

And there seems to be a determined effort to round up the bandits for disarmament purposes.

Even if Marshal Foch doesn't see what he wants, he won't have to ask for it.

The holiday feeling is in the air, but father says it's mostly in his pocketbook.

Perhaps that weak Madeira wine will not give Charles Hapless-burg the "rattling of the brain."

They don't call it "drug store beer" in this vicinity, and they will never have that opportunity.

For all of its troubles and trials, it's a world of many Thanksgivings days.

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. STANTON

From the Windows.

I.
Over the Library windows now
Of wild and But still the thought of one dear face far away.
And the dear, dawning eyes
Sweet surprise
Makes the dearest winter May.

With many a sweet surprise!

II.
Friends I have here in multitudes—
these books.
With all their grief and grace;
Music of birds, and of remembered brook.
In seaward-singing race!
But all how wearisome the wide world looks
Lost to one dear, sweet face!

III.
Well for the winter that it chills the skies
And blurs the rosiest dawn, Since the great hills have hid those eyes.
Since one dear face is gone!
And never spring shall come with sweet surprise
While the dim years roll on!

Always Something Lacking.
(From The Russellville Courier.)
Potatoes all housed and 'possums ripe and a good crop of them, but good hunting dogs are scarce. The dog vender has coupled this unpopularity with a good dog that will be almost as valuable as a good milk cow.

A Home-Town Voice.
Suggested by the poet of The Arkansas Gazette.
"Before matters reach
The impending climax
For the disarmament conference To state definitely How frequently
A fellow in an alleged Friendly p. g.
Is entitled to get by
With axes back to back."

This Ought to Settle It.
The Swainsboro Forest-Blade writes up the situation there in this fashion:
"There may be a little moonshine made in this section, in fact there is some made, but if there was no moonshine, the moon would be the only thing in the sky that would shine on the people."

When He Comes.
Old Man Winter
Is coming right along,
But he'll stir the chimney singin'
Of the old, sweet song,
And children in the firelight's gleam,
Will kiss their mothers in a dream!

The Thomasville Times-Enterprise man says the reason women cry at a wedding is because they feel a relief that one more is out of the way!

Looking Your Way.
I.
In the deep night still dreaming of the day—
Looking your way:
Weaving December to a rose of May, Rimmed with the bright rain of the rainbow's ray.
In all I find I sing or say,
Looking your way.

II.
Looking your way, hands fold themselves to pray—
Looking your way,
No red thorn with the poisoned spear can slay—
No wiles can lure, no false dreams can decease,
Dearest, I only drift into the day,
Looking your way.

Great Inducement.
"This is a candid poet," and if my friends and fellow-citizens will only help me to pay out, I promise 'em it will be my last!"

NARCISSUS

I.
Sweet flower, how beautiful thou art!
A white star—flower with golden heart—
Something of heaven in these must be,
If we can trust mythology:
Why didst thou flout the gods above, Scorning the Nymph who sought thy love,
Her will and thine thou didst defy,
And thine own beauty loving, die?

II.
Wrath of the gods doomed thee in vain.
Thy fate it was to live again.
A white star—flower with golden
heart:
And very beautiful thou art,
Both love and beauty live in thee.
I must believe in mythology:
This flower once lived in Paradise,
And is Narcissus in disguise.

—CHARLES W. HUBNER.

The Situation Briefly

But Truly Stated

Editor Constitution: The southern farmer can overcome the ravages of the boll weevil, only by taking the advice of the best friend the south ever had—the lamented
Henry W. Grady.

Fertilization! Intensification!
If this slogan is adhered to it will prove as effective as Rum, Romanism and Rebellion did.

I believe everything happens for the best, and what is called the menace of the boll weevil will prove to be a blessing in disguise for the banker and supply merchant and to raise other crops besides cotton, and the south will again bloom and blossom as a rose once more.

Diversify, intensify, fertilize, and then raise as much cotton as you can, as cheap as you can, and you have the balance of the world by the tail.

You cannot do this without the help of your banker and supply merchant. As long as they refuse to finance the farmer only on cotton, the situation is hopeless.

HERBERT H. BROWN.

More Information on Corned Beef and Sausage

BY MARTIN V. CALVIN

Statistician Georgia Department of Agriculture.

Editor Constitution: The article on "Corned Beef and All-Pork Sausage," to which you kindly gave so choice a position on the editorial page of the Constitution, of the 18th inst., attracted very general attention. I know this by reason of mention made to me personally on yesterday and letters received this morning.

Additional information is desired by farmers who are directly interested in the subject. The question comes to me: "After the lapse of 15 or 20 days, and the beef is ready for sale, should it be removed from the brine?"
The answer is, no. Keep it in the brine until all has been used.

It will interest you to know that pork hams may be pickled by use of the corned beef recipe. There are but few things more delightful on a winter's day than pickled ham and a head of rare old Georgia collards, after the latter have been liberally treated by "Jack Frost."

And concerning the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of the incomparable negro cooks esteemed to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by one of
the incomparable negro cooks esteemed
to be part of the family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when
prepared by one of the incomparable
negro cooks esteemed to be part of the
family and the household, and the quantity of salt, when prepared by

The Constitution's Weekly Detective Story

MRS. BOGNOR'S STAR BOARDER

A PETER RUFF STORY
BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution)

Next Week, "The Perfidy of Miss Brown."

(Continued From Yesterday)

Peter Ruff became an inmate of that very select boarding house carried on by Mrs. Bognor at No. 17 Russell street, Bloomsbury. He arrived with a steamer trunk, an elaborate traveling bag and a dressing case; took the best vacant room in the house, and dressed for dinner. Mrs. Bognor looked upon him as a valuable addition to her clientele, and introduced him freely to her other guests. Among these was Major Edward Jones. Major Jones sat at Mrs. Bognor's right hand, and was evidently the show guest of the boarding house. Peter Ruff, without the least desire to attract his position, sat upon her left and monopolized the conversation. On the third night it turned, by chance, upon precious stones. Peter drew a little chain of pearls from his pocket.

"I am afraid," he said, "that my tastes are peculiar. I have been in the east, and I have seen very precious stones in their uncut state. To my mind, there is nothing to be compared with opals. These are a few I brought home from India. Perhaps you would like to look at them, Mrs. Bognor."

They were passed around amidst a little chorus admiration.

"The larger one with the blue fire," Peter Ruff remarked, "is, I think, remarkably beautiful. I have never seen a stone quite like it."

"It is wonderful!" murmured the young lady who was sitting at Major Jones' right hand. "What a fortunate man you are, Mr. Ruff, to have such a collection of treasures!"

Peter Ruff bowed across the table. Major Jones, who was beginning to feel that his position as show guest was in danger, thrust his hand into his waistcoat pocket and produced a lady's ring, in which was set a single opal.

"Very pretty stones," he remarked, "but I can't say I am very fond of them. Here's one that belonged to my sister, and my grandmother before her. I have it in my pocket because I was thinking of having the stone reset and making a present of it to a friend of mine."

Peter Ruff's popularity waned—he had said nothing about making a present to any one of even the most insignificant of his opals! And the one which Major Jones now handed round was certainly a magnificent one. Peter Ruff examined it with the rest and under the pretext of studying the setting, gazed steadily at the inside through his glasses. Major Jones seemed to have grown very small indeed.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

carelessly, "family heirlooms, most of them."

"You will have to give me the ring, Major Jones," the young lady on his right remarked archly. "It's bad luck, you know, to give it to anyone who is not born in October, and my birthday is on the twelfth."

"My dear Miss Levey," Major Jones answered, whispering in her ear, "more unlikely things have happened than that I should be your acceptance of this little trifle."

"Sooner or later," Peter Ruff said gently, "I should like to have a little conversation with you, major. I fancy that we ought to be able to find plenty of subjects of common interest."

"Delighted, I'm sure," the latter answered, utterly unresponsive. "Shall we go into the smoking-room now, or would you rather play a rubber first?"

"If it is all the same to you," Peter Ruff said, "I think we will have a cigar first. There will be plenty of time for bridge afterwards."

"May I offer you a cigar, sir?" Major Jones inquired, passing across a well-filled case.

Peter Ruff sighed. "I am not your servant," he said, "that there is scarcely time. You see, I have a warrant in my pocket for you, and I am afraid that by the time we get to the station—"

Major Jones leaned forward in his chair. He gripped the sides tightly with both hands. His eyes seemed to be protruding from his head.

"For my what?" he exclaimed, in a tone of horror.

"Your arrest," Peter Ruff explained calmly. "Surely you must have been expecting it! During all these years you must have grown used to expecting it at every moment!"

Major Jones collapsed. He looked at Ruff as one might look at a man who has taken leave of his senses. Yet underneath it all was the cowardly fear!

"What are you talking about, man?" he asked. "What do you mean? Lower your voice, for heaven's sake! Consider my position here! Some one might overhear! If this is Sir Richard's tell you that it's a—d—d foolish one!"

Peter Ruff raised his eyebrows. "I do not wish," he said, "to create a disturbance—my manner of coming here should have assured you of that. At the same time, business is business. I hold a warrant for your arrest, and I am forced to execute it."

"Do you mean that you are a detective, then?" Major Jones demanded. "He was a big man, but his voice seemed to have grown very small indeed."

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

ASK BUSINESS HEAD FOR RICHMOND COUNTY

Augusta, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—The grand jury in its presentments made yesterday recommended that a county manager be employed by the county commissioners.

This recommendation followed a written statement to the grand jury by Jacob Phinizy, a leading citizen of the county, which had been prepared by W. C. Boykin, who made an investigation of county affairs at the instance of Mr. Phinizy.

This Boykin report is a general indictment of the system of conducting business in the county. He declares that there are apparently many small money leaks in their sum total, become significant. He does not blame the county commissioners except in that there is no "head" to the business of the county. For instance, the county pay roll is handled by the superintendent of county roads and individual vouchers are not taken from the employees. There is no suggestion anywhere that there have been padded pay rolls, yet there is nothing to prevent padded rolls.

He has been paying $20 to "spotters," who turn up violators of the prohibition act, the "spotters" giving no money income in return to the county. He says that the county is "under cover."

Offices for the solicitor and judge of the city court are rented and furnished in the leading downtown skyscraper. Charges per diem for salaried deputies have been paid when these officers are out of the county on business.

What appears to be exorbitant prices have been paid for upkeep and operation of automobiles. County employees taking persons to distant eleemosynary institutions have turned in expense accounts which are alleged to be in the leading downtown skyscraper. Charges per diem for salaried deputies have been paid when these officers are out of the county on business.

Major Jones inquired, passing across a well-filled case.

Peter Ruff sighed. "I am not your servant," he said, "that there is scarcely time. You see, I have a warrant in my pocket for you, and I am afraid that by the time we get to the station—"

Major Jones leaned forward in his chair. He gripped the sides tightly with both hands. His eyes seemed to be protruding from his head.

"For my what?" he exclaimed, in a tone of horror.

"Your arrest," Peter Ruff explained calmly. "Surely you must have been expecting it! During all these years you must have grown used to expecting it at every moment!"

Major Jones collapsed. He looked at Ruff as one might look at a man who has taken leave of his senses. Yet underneath it all was the cowardly fear!

"What are you talking about, man?" he asked. "What do you mean? Lower your voice, for heaven's sake! Consider my position here! Some one might overhear! If this is Sir Richard's tell you that it's a—d—d foolish one!"

Peter Ruff raised his eyebrows. "I do not wish," he said, "to create a disturbance—my manner of coming here should have assured you of that. At the same time, business is business. I hold a warrant for your arrest, and I am forced to execute it."

"Do you mean that you are a detective, then?" Major Jones demanded. "He was a big man, but his voice seemed to have grown very small indeed."

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

"It seemed to Peter Ruff, who was watching his companion closely, that a wave of relief passed over the face of the man who sat covering in his chair. He certainly drew a little gasp—stretched out his hands, as though to thrust the shadow of some fear from him. His voice, when he spoke, was stronger. Some of the show of courage was returning to him."

"There is some ridiculous mistake," he declared. "Let us talk this over like sensible men, Mr. Ruff. If you will wait until I have spoken to Sir Richard, I can promise you that the warrant shall be withdrawn, and that you shall not be the loser."

"I am afraid it is too late for anything of that sort," Peter Ruff said. "Sir Richard's patience has been completely exhausted by your repeated demands."

"He never told me so," Major Jones whined. "I quite thought that he was always glad to help an old friend. As a matter of fact, I had not meant to ask him for anything else. The last few hundred I had from him was to have closed the thing up. It was the end."

Peter Ruff shook his head. "No," he said, "it was not the end. Sir Richard sought my advice, and I gave it to him without hesitation. Sooner or later, I told him, he would have to adopt different measures. I convinced him. I represent those measures."

"But the matter can be arranged," Major Jones insisted, with a little shudder. "I am perfectly certain it can be arranged. Mr. Ruff, you are not an ordinary police officer—I am sure of that. Give me a chance of an interview with Sir Richard, and before anything more is done, I will satisfy him. I promise you that. Why, if we leave the place together like this, everyone here will get to know about it."

"Be reasonable," Peter Ruff answered. "Of course, everyone will get to know about it! Blackmailing cases always excite a considerable amount of interest. Your photograph will probably be in the Daily Mirror tomorrow or the next day. In the meantime, I must trouble you to pay your respects to Mrs. Bognor and to come with me."

"To Sir Richard's house?" Major Jones asked eagerly.

"To the police station," Peter Ruff answered.

"Naturally," Peter Ruff answered, "I should not have come here without authority."

"What is the charge?" the other man faltered. "The information against you is lodged by Sir Richard Dyson."

The Constitution's Weekly Novel

CAPTAIN JONAH'S FORTUNE

BY JAMES A. COOPER

(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution)

Next Week,

"The Mating of the Blades," by Achmed Abaulah, Starting Next Sunday.

(Continued From Yesterday)

He arrived at the spot where he believed the doctor's sister had come to grief. The snow and wind were both increasing in intensity. He could see nothing at a distance of two yards. Nevertheless, he was assured of his position. Here was where he had seen that mysterious spectral figure in the storm.

He stepped back at least two fathoms from the patrol path and drove the point of the bar into the frozen earth. Again and again he thrust it downward, with his weight behind each blow, until finally he could work it around and around, sinking it into the sandy soil as much as two feet.

The bar could not easily be drawn out, and he fastened the end of the line to this one secure point. He loved the slack of the line to run over the verge of the bluff.

He would have shouted in vain. The thick, swirling snow and the howling of the wind made a pandemonium above which no human voice could rise. Had Sue Ambrose been there, he would have kissed her with his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with the thought that he had seen her. He seized the line and lowered himself. He came under hand, down the break of the cliff. His head once below the brink, he was immediately out of the gale's tumult. It roared above him as the sea roared below; but he was calm, and having cleared his eyes with the back of one hand, could look about.

There was something on a narrow shelf that was not snow. A dark figure—a human figure! Its garments fluttered in the suction of the wind.

"Sue! My God! Sue!" his cry was simultaneous with

Mental Attitude Not Just Right HARD DRIVING PREPS START Dartmouth's Big Green Outfit Reaches Atlanta This Morning

Tech's Left End Declares Jackets Need Scare to Realize Peril in Auburn Game.

BY JOHN STATION.
(Tech's Left End.)

We don't seem to have the pinch and drive that characterized the practice before the Georgetown game. It may be that the fellows have not fully recovered from the effects of a hard game, or it may be that we have just naturally gone to the dogs. But as we are playing now, something is wrong with us. We lack that something which is so essential in every football game.

The fellows seem to be in there working all right, but the aggressiveness is missing. We seem to rely on the knees and the hands to get us there, rather than the fighting spirit that overcomes all obstacles.

We have certainly got to snap out of the trance. Playing the way that we did Friday, Auburn would beat us 40 to 0. And then there would be sorrow in the Tech camp for a whole year. It is the mental attitude that is affected. The fellows don't seem to be taking the game seriously enough. And that is one thing that will defeat a team quicker than anything else. When you underestimate an opponent you are in for the beating of your life.

An Old Calamity.

We can't repeat the season of 1919. There was a good team that could play good football when the mental attitude was right. And there also was a team that looked like a bunch of rules on certain occasions. Washington and Lee slipped over a win and made the bunch wake up. The next Saturday they came back and performed nobly against Georgetown, beating them when a beating was least expected. So far our season has been along exactly the way that we have drifted along the whole season, content to run roughshod over the small fry. Then Penn State knocked us for a cold but, they were just up.

HARVARD WIN GATOR NEXT WAS SUPERB FOR PETRELS

New York, November 20.—Harvard's victory over Yale in the final of the football season's big three meetings will stand as one of the greatest games in the history of the sport.

There was every evidence before the first kickoff that the Crimson was outclassed and in the early stages of the game, the Harvard halfback, assisted by Quarterback Bull, turned the trick that left the Blue on the short end of a 10-3 score.

There was every evidence before the first kickoff that the Crimson was outclassed and in the early stages of the game, the Harvard halfback, assisted by Quarterback Bull, turned the trick that left the Blue on the short end of a 10-3 score.

But in the latter stages of the third quarter, Bull, who for two seasons had been in the Harvard line as a general, standing off and telling his warriors what to do, decided to carry out personally one of his own ideas. He did so in a splendid manner and when he came to earth it was on Yale's 12-yard line. The quarter ended and in the beginning of the next, Green, the dependable, plunged across with the touchdown from which Bull kicked the Yale field goal.

Robertson Failed.

Captain Jim Robertson, of Dartmouth, one of the season's stars, was in poor form when his eleven was sent against Syracuse and it was partly because of his poor punting that the Orange was able to win 14 to 7.

West Virginia underestimated the strength of Rutgers and started nine subs against them in the clash in Newark, N. J. Rutgers scored two touchdowns in the second quarter and West Virginia, trying to overcome the lead sent in its regular line. The touchdown could they accomplish, however, against the Rutgers defense and the final score was 17 to 7.

Brown concluded his season with a hard earned 7-0 victory over Colgate at Providence.

IOWA PROVED OFFER MADE BIG SCORERS F. STRUPPER

Chicago, November 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The University of Iowa's football eleven, champion of the western conference and the only team to have won the Big Ten championship in the big ten during the past season, but in defensive ability, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Chicago all surpassed the title winners on the basis of figures alone.

The Hawkeye scoring machine crossed its opponent's goal lines in each championship game for a total of 123 points, one of the best records made by a big ten team since Michigan's famous "point-a-minute" eleven of years ago. Wisconsin was second in scoring ability against the conference teams, but was far behind Iowa, the Badgers' total being 89 points and Ohio State was third with 70 points and Chicago fourth with 67.

On the defensive in conference games alone, Ohio State kept its goal line safe in every game but one. Illinois allowed the Buckeye line for 7 points. Strangely, this touchdown and goal, the only one scored against Ohio State for the only one scored by Illinois during the season in a big ten game and kept Ohio State out of a tie with Iowa for the championship.

Wisconsin, with 10 points scored against her in titular contests, Chicago with 13 and Iowa with 15, ranked next in defensive ability on the basis of statistics alone.

USE BLOODHOUNDS TO CAPTURE NEGRO

Liverly, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—With the assistance of bloodhounds belonging to J. R. Clowds, sheriff, officers and county policemen on Friday captured Ed Lee Jackson, a negro, who is charged with burglarizing the store of Perry Brown, at Crystal Springs, just across the line in Floyd county, Thursday night. Only a small amount of cash and a number of clothing items were taken from the store. None of the stolen articles was recovered.

(Special.)—Hard work and lots of it, is what the Tigers have starting them in the face from now to Thanksgiving. Not for a moment does Coach Nicholson intend to let up on his men, but to drive them every afternoon until they have mastered all the details of the plays that are required to use against the Commodores at Nashville.

Despise the defeat by Tennessee, the student body believes in the team, and believes the Purple will come through with a victory against Vanderbilt. So thorough was the belief in the team that on last Sunday afternoon, when the team arrived late in the day, the entire mountain top was out to welcome them at the station, and the carriages were again brought into service, and in the pouring rain the students pulled the members of the team from the station into the university grounds. It was a fitting tribute to a great team that had fallen for a moment—and the students believe it was for a moment only.

Monday was a fairly light day on the football field, but Tuesday saw the beginning of real work, and so hard was the scrimmage that Lilton, the purple little center who plays nearly all of every game this season, was completely knocked out and did not regain his senses for over five minutes. He gave way to Stevens as he was in no condition to continue the grueling practice.

Another Loss.

The Tigers have suffered another loss in Oakes, a first substitute end who has withdrawn from college and hid himself in his Texas home. Oakes has served his second year on the Tiger squad, and was learning to learn football as it should be played. His loss gives Robert Moore, from Memphis, his opportunity to play in the game. Moore is about the next best end to Conway and Miller. Tom Hunt, a freshman, who has not shown up splendidly in his substitute end, had the misfortune to break his arm in practice, and is out for the balance of the season. The Tigers are thus reduced to their regular ends, and Moore as substitute fullback, able to play end if necessary.

The weather continues wet, but better conditions are promised, and the Tigers need all the good weather they can get. The game against Florida will remain to be done before the machine gets back in its old form, and in such form as will give Vandy the life it needs for the game.

Despite the fact that the latest dose gives Vandy the edge by some 35 points, there is not a Tiger follower who will concede a total such margin, or in fact any margin at all.

BASKETBALL OF BAPTISTS

BY C. E. BAKER.

Macon, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—Mercer university's basketball schedule for the coming season will be opened here tonight by the Macon Volunteers. A total of 10, was announced here tonight by Coach Cody and is one of the most difficult ever undertaken by an Orange and Black squad. A total of seventeen games appear on the list and all the formidable college teams in the south will be met. Among the teams that the local institution will encounter in the indoor sport are Tech, Georgia, Auburn, Vanderbilt, Clemson, Florida, Clemson, and Camp Benning, Bryson college and the Macon Volunteers, the latter team being almost the same five that represented the Macon Volunteers last season with such successful results.

Two games will be played with Tech, two with Georgia, two with Auburn, two with Chattanooga, two with Camp Benning and two with the rest of the lot. It is the plan of the Mercer athletic board of control to send the team on a winter road trip, one during the Christmas holidays into Florida and South Carolina, another into Tennessee during the early part of January, and the other into Alabama during February.

Practice Stars Soon.

Varsity basketball practice will begin December 1, according to Coach Cody's announcement. The final football game for the athletes of Coaches Cody and Russ Cohen will be played this week with Camp Benning, in Columbus. The local season was closed with a close win over the victory over the University of Chattanooga Mercantiles last Saturday.

The basketball season is the biggest of all. Of the seventeen games to be played, the city auditorium court here, Tech, same with the University of Georgia is the classic of the indoor season each year and all plans are laid for working up this battle as the climax of the season. The Christmas trip, however, is certain as to dates and the towns to be visited. It is Coach Cody's plan, however, to have his team perform in Jacksonville, Charleston, Augusta, Savannah and Albany.

Letter Men Back.

There are three letter men from last year's squad back. These are Captain-elect "Snaky" Harper, a guard; Robert Gamble, center, and Willie Meier, Captain. Selby Weekly, "Eddie" Whitehead and Irving Scott, other members of last year's team, are out of school now. New material, and of a formidable sort, will bloom forth this season. Six-footers and men of proven worth will be among the candidates for the season. Among them are Leggett, McWilliams, Bolton, Pope and others.

The schedule in full follows: December 10—Macon Volunteers. December 17—Camp Benning, in Macon. January 7—Tech in Macon. January 13—Auburn in Macon. January 20—Clemson in Macon. January 27—Tech in Atlanta. January 21—University of Chattanooga in Chattanooga. January 28—Bryson college in Fayetteville. January 24—Vanderbilt in Nashville.

February 1—Florida in Macon. February 2—Auburn in Auburn. February 3—Camp Benning at Camp Benning. February 4—University of Chattanooga in Macon. February 11—Georgia in Macon. February 18—Macon Volunteers. February 25—Macon Volunteers.

HARD WORK SLATED FOR FULTON ELEVEN

Hard practice is on tap this afternoon for the Fulton High boys in preparation for the game Tuesday at Ponce de Leon park with the Decatur High eleven. The game is creating quite a bit of excitement not only in the two schools but also in prep circles.

BALDWIN RESIDENT BURIED AT SPARTA

Sparta, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—The body of Gordon McComb, formerly a leading citizen of Sparta, but of late years a resident of Baldwin, who died at his home Saturday night, was buried in the Sparta cemetery Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends. Mr. McComb was in the seventy-first year of life at the time of his death, which is attributed to cancer of the stomach. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Durham McComb.

BY ROY E. WHITE.

With the curtain of prep football rapidly falling on local institutions, attention has already been called to the fact that the prep athletes are doing the kind of work that is early in the season.

Boys' High has the honor of being the first prep team around the city to start basketball practice. The boys' high school is the only one working out for a week on their court in the school auditorium.

Tech High is slated to start the indoor practice around the second week in December. Coach Tolbert, in a recent conversation, said that he was going to give the football team two weeks in which to break the ice, and then to start the basketball team.

Material Plentiful.

The material in the schools for basketball looks better than in any former year. All the coaches seem very much pleased with the material in school at present.

Boys' High will be coached by Dave Johnson, former Georgia star. Boys' High will have State, captain of the five; Stephens, Roane and Spears, from the last year's squad. This will be a very strong team, and the coaches are confident that they will be able to throw their strength against the Athenians Saturday.

Twenty-two Men Along.

Twenty-two men are being transported to Atlanta for the struggle, Dartmouth alumni started yesterday. Coach Cannon declared that he was going to be well fortified for the injuries that sometimes happen in the college pastime. These young men, according to Cannon, will be well equipped by Dartmouth supporters, comprising a wonderfully well-balanced machine—one capable of taking care of itself against the sternest sort of opposition.

They range in height from six feet two inches to five feet four inches, and in weight from 210 pounds to 132. This indicates that these Dartmouth gridiron toilers are no little weight. Each of these players is a power of the Red and Black and is further indicative of the fact that Atlanta fans and the south in general are going to see a real battle at Grant field Saturday.

Some Big Players.

There seems to be some fine specimens of the physical man on that Big Green team. For instance, Goldstein, Hatch, Hubert, Hurd, Swanson, Neidinger and Robertson are all big, and have an enormous amount of tonnage between them. All of them, with the exception of Robertson, are linemen. Robertson is a halfback of all-American caliber, and is expected to prove a great star against the Georgians.

The record of the Dartmouth eleven this season has been satisfactory. A couple of reverses were encountered, but at that the Big Green acquitted itself.

Trinity's Fight.

Another contest that attracted wide attention was the fight put on by Trinity College, of Durham, N. C., against the heavy New York University team on the latter's home ground, the North Carolina arena. Trinity won by a 7 to 0 tie.

Trinity had won all its previous games this season, but lost to the University of North Carolina by a 14 to 0 score. The game was a close one, but Trinity won by a 7 to 0 tie.

The week was a disastrous one for other southern teams. The Clemson lost to Erskine and Maryland went down before Carnegie Tech, but Furman, North Carolina State and Virginia Tech all won.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand)

"One, Two, Three," a snappy musical comedy in miniature, is the top line feature on the vaudeville program at Loew's Grand for the first half of the week beginning today. A quintet of talented artists presenting laughter and music, the latest in tunes and chatter. Al Foster and company, an added feature, are also bringing to Atlanta a lot of new songs and music in their offering. Other acts are Eddie Cassidy, the "Lad from Laughland," Mack and Castleton, "Clever Capers," and Peco Duo, the harmonica and singer.

Featured on the screen is the powerful photo drama, "Indiscretion," with three famous stars in the cast in Reed, Greed, Hughes and Lionel Atwill. News Weeklies and comedies complete an interesting program.

GASOLINE PRICE IN ATLANTA NOW 27 CENTS GALLON

Due to an advance in the price of crudes, the price of gasoline at all filling stations in the city will advance to 27 cents, effective today, which is an advance of 5 cents a gallon since the price of gasoline in the city was selling for 22 cents.

The advance in crude oil, which seems to have gone from $1 to $2.25 in the last few days, is the cause of the increase in the price of gasoline. The oil well production, making it necessary for the refineries to offer higher prices to the distributors.

NEGRO PASTOR SHOWS VALUE OF EDUCATION

"The increase in the number of crimes, perpetrated by negroes under voting age, is due to the fact that they are not having the proper training, which would have made them good and useful citizens," declared Rev. R. L. Holmes, president of the Home Institute in Delaware, during an address in Glenn Street Baptist church Sunday morning.

The Home Institute is an organization to impart a good education to that class of colored youths, whose actions are making the lives of the citizens of the city and state more difficult.

Dr. Lawless Speaks.

The address of Dr. Alfred Lawless before the men's meeting of the Butler street branch of the Y. M. C. A., was one of the best of the entire series. He spoke of the individual and society, asserting that much of the trouble that comes up from day to day is the result of a lack of proper training in the home.

Will Be Met by Alumni and Escorted to Headquarters at the Georgian Terrace.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

At the time this paper went to press this morning, the Dartmouth football team, headed by Coach Cannon and captain Jim Robertson, had not pulled into its space at the Terminal station, but if you are reading this yarn later than 7:15 o'clock, you may rest assured that the southern invasion by the Big Green outfit is on—that the easterners have arrived and are waiting patiently for their intersection at the University of Georgia Building at Grant field Saturday afternoon.

Information received Saturday night from New York where the Dartmouth team staged a valiant battle against Syracuse during the afternoon, stated that the New Hampshire lads came into the city with a splendid condition and will be able to throw their strength against the Athenians Saturday.

Twenty-two Men Along.

Twenty-two men are being transported to Atlanta for the struggle, Dartmouth alumni started yesterday. Coach Cannon declared that he was going to be well fortified for the injuries that sometimes happen in the college pastime. These young men, according to Cannon, will be well equipped by Dartmouth supporters, comprising a wonderfully well-balanced machine—one capable of taking care of itself against the sternest sort of opposition.

They range in height from six feet two inches to five feet four inches, and in weight from 210 pounds to 132. This indicates that these Dartmouth gridiron toilers are no little weight. Each of these players is a power of the Red and Black and is further indicative of the fact that Atlanta fans and the south in general are going to see a real battle at Grant field Saturday.

Some Big Players.

There seems to be some fine specimens of the physical man on that Big Green team. For instance, Goldstein, Hatch, Hubert, Hurd, Swanson, Neidinger and Robertson are all big, and have an enormous amount of tonnage between them. All of them, with the exception of Robertson, are linemen. Robertson is a halfback of all-American caliber, and is expected to prove a great star against the Georgians.

The record of the Dartmouth eleven this season has been satisfactory. A couple of reverses were encountered, but at that the Big Green acquitted itself.

Trinity's Fight.

Another contest that attracted wide attention was the fight put on by Trinity College, of Durham, N. C., against the heavy New York University team on the latter's home ground, the North Carolina arena. Trinity won by a 7 to 0 tie.

Trinity had won all its previous games this season, but lost to the University of North Carolina by a 14 to 0 score. The game was a close one, but Trinity won by a 7 to 0 tie.

The week was a disastrous one for other southern teams. The Clemson lost to Erskine and Maryland went down before Carnegie Tech, but Furman, North Carolina State and Virginia Tech all won.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand)

"One, Two, Three," a snappy musical comedy in miniature, is the top line feature on the vaudeville program at Loew's Grand for the first half of the week beginning today. A quintet of talented artists presenting laughter and music, the latest in tunes and chatter. Al Foster and company, an added feature, are also bringing to Atlanta a lot of new songs and music in their offering. Other acts are Eddie Cassidy, the "Lad from Laughland," Mack and Castleton, "Clever Capers," and Peco Duo, the harmonica and singer.

Featured on the screen is the powerful photo drama, "Indiscretion," with three famous stars in the cast in Reed, Greed, Hughes and Lionel Atwill. News Weeklies and comedies complete an interesting program.

ANOTHER BATTLE OVER CITY MARKET SCHEDULED TODAY

Another fight over the municipal market is scheduled to take place in the city this afternoon. With the odds at the last meeting were overwhelmingly against opponents of the market, the city council has decided to hold a public hearing on the subject for the building, the opponents declare that they will delay the appropriation until next year, and claim that their strength will then be sufficiently augmented among incoming members, to defeat the project.

The market controversy has been long fought and bitter. Alderman J. L. Carpenter has led the opposition forces. The other faction is supported by Mayor Key and the Atlanta Woman's club.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN TODAY

Division generals and captains who are to conduct the campaign of the Y. M. C. A. to raise money to pay off the debt of the building, will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at noon today to formulate plans for the drive. C. A. Tovebaugh, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who arrived last week in Atlanta to take charge of the campaign, will be present.

The action of the city and state generals for the campaign was confirmed at a meeting of the board Wednesday last week. At the meeting the final list of captains will be made known. The campaign generals are W. W. Orr, W. E. Harrington, J. E. Bailey, M. L. Throver and Kendall Weisiger.

Some of the campaigns put over the top in the south within the last few months were Augusta, Ga.; Asheville, N. C.; Durham, N. C.; Raleigh, N. C.; Spartanburg, S. C.; Columbia, S. C.; Staunton, Va.; Fayetteville, N. C.; Portsmouth, Va.; Charlotte, N. C.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and Newport News, Va.

COMPLETE WINTER TOURIST SERVICE IN EFFECT SUNDAY

Complete winter tourist service from the west to Florida over the Southern Railway system became effective yesterday with the establishment of the "Ohio Special," running between Cincinnati and Jacksonville, via Atlanta, Macon, Valdosta, and important changes in the schedule of trains. Nos. 1 and 2, the "Royal Palm," operated the year round between Chicago and Jacksonville, via Cincinnati, Atlanta, Macon and Jessup.

For the winter season, the "Royal Palm" will handle sleeping cars between Chicago, Indianapolis, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Jacksonville, all these cars being handled north of the Ohio river by the Big Four Route. The new schedule is as follows:

Leave Chicago 9:30 p. m., Indianapolis 2:40 a. m., Detroit 10 p. m., Toledo 11:45 p. m., arrive Chattanooga 5:45 a. m., Cincinnati 8:45 a. m., Cleveland 3:50 p. m., arrive Atlanta 8:40 p. m., leave Atlanta 8:55 p. m., arrive Macon 3:20 a. m., Macon 3:30 a. m., (eastern time), arrive Atlanta 5:15 a. m., leave Atlanta 5:30 a. m., arrive Chattanooga 10:25 a. m., Cincinnati 8:45 p. m., Cleveland 7:20 a. m., Toledo 5:30 a. m., Detroit 7:40 a. m., Indianapolis 9:20 a. m., Chicago 7:05 a. m.

The "Ohio Special" will handle sleeping cars between Cincinnati and Chattanooga and Jacksonville, its schedule being: Leave Cincinnati 8:15 a. m., Chattanooga 6:30 p. m., arrive Atlanta 11:20 p. m., leave Atlanta 11:30 a. m., arrive Macon 3:40 a. m., (eastern time), Valdosta 8 a. m., Jacksonville 11:30 a. m., leave Jacksonville 8:10 p. m., Valdosta 11:35 a. m.

Roscoe Kash, 14 years old and in port trousers, is a freshman at the University of Kentucky and on his way to be a doctor.

THEATERS

LOEW'S GRAND CONTINUOUS TO 11 P.M.

Vanderbilt. 15c. 20c. 25c. 30c. 40c. MONDAY. TUESDAY. WEDNESDAY. 5 ACTS LOEW 5

"ONE, TWO, THREE!"
A Merry Musical Revue —Talented Artists—
On the Screen
GARETH HUGHES FLORENCE REED
"INDISCRETION"

ATLANTA THEATRE TONIGHT

Promptly at 8
ENTIRE WEEK—MATINEES WED., THURS. AND SAT. AT 2

In presenting "Chu Chin Chow" in this city tonight, Mr. Morris is giving you a show that is the fact that "Chu Chin Chow" will be given here EXACTLY as done in London and New York.

Owing to enormous size of production and length of performance, patrons are requested to be seated by 8 o'clock, as no one will be seated during first act.

POSITIVELY ONLY TIMES HERE

The Most Gorgeous, Marvelous, Superb, Colorful, Fascinating, Glorious, Wonderful, Sensational, Delightful, Glittering, Extraordinary, Unprecedented, Magnificent, Dazzling, Opalescent, Intoxicating, Colossal, Adorable, Fantastic, Glowing, Exotic, Baccchanalian and Triumphant Success Ever Known in the History of the English-Speaking Stage.

F. RAY COMSTOCK and MORRIS GAGE Present
THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL PRODUCTION

Chu Chin Chow

By OSCAR ASCHE
Music by FREDERIC WORTON

As Presented Five Solid Years at His Majesty's Theatre, London

A MUSICAL EXTRAVAGANZA OF THE ORIENT

DIRECT FROM ONE YEAR AT THE CENTURY THEATRE, N. Y.

14 BIG SCENES—COMPANY OF 300 PEOPLE

Most Costly Production Ever Sent on Tour in the World's History

PRICES—Nights, also Thanksgiving and Saturday Matinees, $1.00 to $2.50. Popular Matinee Wednesday, 75c to $2.00.

FEIST M. STRAUSS SPEAKS OF YOUTH AND ITS PROBLEMS

An address of interest in the city was the discussion Sunday morning at the temple on South Pryor street, at 11:45 o'clock, by Feist M. Strauss, assistant superintendent of the Hebrew Orphan's home, on "Youth and Its Problems." The meeting, which was well attended, was presided over by Arthur Hyman, in the absence of Dr. David M. Marx from Toledo.

In the course of his address, Mr. Strauss traced the social service element that enters into the life of a child, drawing material from his wide experience in child welfare work. He discussed the "placing system," by which the orphan's home are placed in private homes wherever possible.

Playgrounds and their supervision came in for a large share in the discussion, as well as the influence of home and school on the life of a child. The Boy Scouts movement, as declared by Mr. Strauss to be a potent factor in child welfare. The psychological clinic and the work of the juvenile courts were also reviewed. Open discussion, in which the problems set forth were analyzed, followed the address.

RETAIL MERCHANTS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Members of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association will gather in the last regular meeting of the year this evening at 6:15 o'clock in the breakfast room of the Kimball house, in what promises to be a session of more than usual interest. The feature will be the address of Eugene R. Black, prominent Atlanta in civic business life, on "Selling Banking Service to Retail Merchants." Ivan Allen will preside.

Short five-minute talks will then be delivered by members of the association on the subject, "Present-Day Sales and Advertising Methods Necessary in My Business." Recently the executive secretary, C. V. Holenstein, put on a mail campaign to increase the membership. This will be followed up by him with a talk on "Selling the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association to Its Members, Non-members, and the City of Atlanta."

DON'T FORGET D. W. GRIFFITH'S

WAY DOWN EAST

TWICE DAILY ALL THIS WEEK

SPECIAL MATINEE THURS. AND SAT.

OPENS TODAY FORSYTH-- 2:30 AND 8:15 P. M.

THE GUMPS—A PEEK INTO THE FUTURE

AUTO ASSOCIATION CONVENTION TODAY

Detroit, November 20.—An effort to increase the number of automobile clubs throughout the country and to bring about closer cooperation between various clubs for benefit of members will be the chief consideration of the annual meeting of the American Automobile Association tomorrow and Tuesday, George C. Diehl, of Buffalo, president of the national organization, and presidents, secretaries and members of city clubs from nearly every state are here for the meeting.

One of the plans that will be submitted is the organization of clubs in all small cities where such organizations have not been formed. Clubs in larger cities of each state would guide the junior organizations until they were fully developed, under the plan. The idea also includes provision for establishment of mechanical and service throughout the country for club members.

Among the speakers at the meeting

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

FOR THE RELIEF OF Coughs, Colds, CROUP.

WHOOPIING COUGH,
HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS.

THIS REMEDY
CONTAINS NO NARCOTIC

Manufactured by Chamberlain Medicine Co.
Manufacturing Pharmacists, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A.

PRICE, THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

(Copyrighted by Chamberlain & Co., 1921)

EX-GOVERNOR CATTS CASE COMES UP TODAY

Lake Butler, Fla., November 20.—The case of former Governor Sidney J. Catts, under indictment charging him with having accepted money to influence the granting of a pardon to a state convict, is scheduled to be taken up at the opening of Union county circuit court here Monday, Mr. Catts arrived here Friday.

The former chief executive was indicted by the Bradford county grand jury as the state farm where J. J. Coleman, the inmate, was serving, was in Bradford county. Since the indictment an act of the legislature has become effective creating Union county out of that part of Bradford which contained the farm. Local attorneys have been discussing the question as to whether it might be necessary to seek a recindment before trial.

DEAD THREE DAYS, BODY OF ALLEGED SUICIDE IS FOUND

Florence, C., November 20.—Dead since Thursday night, the body of C. K. Upham, district representative of a large cash register company, was found in a woods on the outskirts of the city this afternoon. He had shot himself through one of his eyes. Bad health, causing mental derangement, is believed to have caused the suicide, according to letters left by the deceased. Upham formerly lived in Mobile, Ala.

NEGRO, SHOT BY CLERK OF PAWNBROKER, DIES

William Swain, of 143 Davis street, who was shot Saturday night by S. P. Sisselman, a pawnbroker's clerk at 78 Decatur street, when he came to the shop for the purpose of redeeming a watch he had put in pawn, died yesterday at Grady hospital. The shooting occurred when the negro became hysterical and threatening after the clerk had tried to detain him until the police could make an investigation. It is claimed that the number on the watch placed in pawn was the same as that of the branch of Hank Ellis, an Atlanta baseball player, which was stolen some time ago. Sisselman is being held in bond.

LOGAN CLARKE INSURANCE AGENCY

Fire, Automobile and Casualty

Personal Attention to All Business

PROMPT PAY NO DELAY

1020 FOURTH NAT. BANK BLDG. TELEPHONE IVY 983

Times Sees Crash In World Finance Fast Approaching

London Paper Says Only Prompt Action by America Can Avert Disaster.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, November 20.—Unless the United States shoulders the burden of world finance, only a miracle can avert the financial catastrophe which is ever drawing nearer. The Sunday Times declares in its editorial columns this morning.

The newspaper regards the limitation of armaments as an accomplishment of fact for which it gives credit to the United States and passes on to its discussion of finance with the remark that it is hoped the American people will display equal foresight and courage in coping with the vast and ever imminent menace of world finance.

"America alone can stabilize credit by devising some scheme for financing the nations now hovering on the brink of insolvency," it says, under the caption: "Washington and World Finance."

"No one for a moment imagines that Germany is able to pay $500,000,000 gold marks on January 15," the editorial continues. "In the event of her failure to do so, the difficulties to French finance may prove insuperable and if France follows Germany into bankruptcy the crash may well bring down the whole edifice of European credit."

"In such an event the United States will suffer incalculable losses, the only way out is for America to observe the precedent set by the Bank of England when it saved American credit in a minor crisis by drawing gold from all the world to loan where it was most needed."

"America holds the world's gold today. The time is short, for should Germany fail to pay, France may march into the Ruhr region and then who can say what disastrous proposals may not vanish in the smoke of war?"

"The Sunday newspapers, which last week heralded to the English public the news of the American naval limitation proposals, generally fail today to comment upon the developments in Washington, leaving this to special correspondents who follow the general line of approval and hopefulness which characterized the British press throughout the week."

The editorial space of The Observer is filled with comment on the reception in India of the prince of Wales, under the caption: "India's Choice—Wales or Gindili."

FIGHTER JAILED IN ROBBERY CASE

Meyer Pries, aged 23, a prize-fighter, of 238 Central avenue, was arrested and taken to police station Sunday by Vic Young, detective for the I. C. Detective John C. Davis, in connection with the recent robbery of the J. Regenstein store at 40 Whitehall street.

While the officers have recovered none of the stolen property, so far as is known, and refuse to discuss the details of the case against Pries, Vic Young says that he has strong evidence connecting the prisoner with the robbery.

The store was entered and a large amount of valuable goods taken on August 24. Since that time Young and Davis have been working hard on the case and they expect to have sensational developments to announce in the near future.

JAPAN'S BUSINESS LEADERS WILL PAY VISIT TO ATLANTA

Washington, November 20.—The Japanese business men's mission to America, which arrived in Washington last night, will remain here until Wednesday, and then some go to Boston, another group to Pittsburgh, and another to Cleveland, Niagara Falls and Schenectady, N. Y., while those interested in cotton will leave for Dallas and Houston, and New Orleans, Birmingham and Atlanta.

The delegation, which is described as "strictly non-political," will be received at the hotel by the American delegation, which will leave for Atlanta Tuesday. It will call on Secretary Hoover at the commerce department, and at dinner last night after its arrival.

ALBANY MAN ENDS HIS LIFE WITH PISTOL

Albany, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—F. M. Gobert, 74 years of age, well known throughout this section and middle Georgia, committed suicide Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Pearson, where he lived.

He had been sitting on the front porch until a few minutes before he fired the shot which ended his life. Going into his room, he seated himself in a chair, placed the muzzle of a pistol against his right temple and sent a bullet through his brain.

It is believed he had contemplated taking his life for some time. In a note which he left, he gave instructions for the disposition of his body, and left a tender message for relatives.

The body will be taken Monday to Milledgeville for burial.

Hencoop Marauders Bring Electric Lights To Front in Lyrly

Lyrly, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—Electric lights in henhouses are soon to be a reality in the Lyrly section.

By pressing a button which is conveniently located in the dwelling house, the chicken roost will be flooded with brightness, thereby revealing any marauder who might be reaching up for the choicest dominion.

CALL IVY 1268 CITY COAL CO. FOR THE BEST

Mine Run at . . . $6.50 per ton
Nut and Slack at $4.50 per ton

850 Unredeemed Overcoats FOR SALE

Eplan's Loan Office
30 Decatur St., Near Pryor

ASK THE FIRST 10 CAR OWNERS YOU MEET What they think of WUNDER GAS

COSTS less per Mile than any GASOLINE sold in ATLANTA

REED OIL CO.

Walker Residence On Ponce de Leon Scene of Flames

A fire that did little damage but drew a large crowd and caused considerable excitement broke last night in the home of W. I. Walker, at 37 Ponce de Leon avenue.

The blaze started in the dining room at about one o'clock and spread to a chair and table. The origin of the blaze has not been determined, but firemen believe it was caused either by a lighted match or cigarette, which had been overlooked by persons in the home.

MISS CLARKE'S TRIAL SCHEDULED TUESDAY

Orlando, Fla., November 20.—The cases of Miss Lena M. T. Clarke and Baxter H. Patterson, each charged in indictments with being principal and accessory to the murder of Fred A. Whitlow, are scheduled to be called in circuit court here Tuesday.

The woman, who formerly employed Whitlow in the West Palm Beach postoffice, of which she was postmistress, is in jail here, while Patterson, who drove her from West Palm Beach to Orlando on the night of the killing, is out on $5,000 bond.

Coleman Trial To Take Place In Hawkinsville

Soperton, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—The trial of E. E. Coleman, jointly indicted with Dan Davis, Roy Durden and Wiley Smith for the murder of William Hall, will be tried in the first trial, in Hawkinsville, Ga., in December. It has been announced by Judge Eschel Graham.

Davis was twice convicted in Trenton superior court and sentenced to serve a life sentence; he was given a new trial in April on grounds of regaining of one of the jurors at the first trial. He was tried again in August and found guilty, and again appealed successfully.

These two trials almost exhausted the jury box in this county. Due to this and the large relationship of the defendants Judge Graham granted a change of venue.

Durden and the early part of May and Coleman has been held at Mount Vernon jail.

The four defendants were indicted for the murder of William Hall, a former cropper on the farm of Davis, and who was killed in the first trial. He was killed by a bullet which entered his chest and caused a fatal wound. He was killed by a bullet which entered his chest and caused a fatal wound.

MAISON HOME IS BURGLARIZED

Macon, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—The police were notified to night that the home of former Alderman P. L. Hay, on North avenue, was entered and articles valued at $2,000 stolen.

Two diamond rings, one a cluster made up of twenty stones, the other, a carat and a half stone, and several dresses were among the articles stolen.

A neighbor reported she saw a negro girl leaving the house with a suit case. The family was out driving at the time of the robbery.

DIXIE FLYER AND The Southland TO FLORIDA

Lv. Atlanta—7:30 p.m. 9:05 p.m.
Ar. Jacksonville—8:25 a.m. 9:45 a.m.

Sleeping Cars, Dining Car, Coaches and Observation Car to Jacksonville. Sleeping Cars to St. Petersburg and Jacksonville on The Southland.

Local Sleeper to Jacksonville on both trains.

Get sleeping car space and tickets in advance at Ticket Office, 18 Walton St. Phone Ivy 6127-6128.

Central of Georgia Railway
"The Right Way"

Ten-Year-Old Son Declares His Father Is Slayer of Three

Wilmington, Ohio, November 20.—Oliver Vandervort, aged 22, who claims to be a fair dealer of this city, was being held under a murder charge in the Clinton county jail here today following a triple murder of a man, a woman and a child, a village near here last night.

Those murdered were Bertha Whitlow, aged 30, his divorced wife, and mother of Vandervort's three children; Mrs. Jeff Whitlow, aged 57, mother of Mrs. Vandervort, and Howard Bower, aged 24, said to have been a caller on Mrs. Vandervort.

Mrs. Whitlow before dying from her wounds, the police say, declared that Vandervort committed the murders. The police say she told them Vandervort came to her home while intoxicated and started a quarrel which ended in the shooting of the three.

Rodney Wallace, a farmer living near the Whitlow home, informed the authorities today that Vandervort, while crazed by drink, shot him last night, and started a quarrel which ended in the shooting of the three.

Vandervort told the authorities today that he was not responsible for the triple murder and that he is the victim of circumstances in having been found at the Whitlow home. He claims that while walking in the road in front of the Whitlow home he heard a commotion and saw in the darkness a figure rush from the door. He said he could not tell whether the figure was that of a man or woman.

According to his story, the police said Vandervort's 10-year-old son, Oliver, rushed from the house to call for help, saw his father and induced him to enter.

Asked by the authorities who did the shooting, the boy said: "Papa did it."

The three small Vandervort children were the only witnesses. When the police arrived, Vandervort was sitting in the home holding his youngest child, a baby.

A. A. DELOACH DIES DIES AT ATLANTA HOME

Continued from First Page.

ments aggregated in value between $4,000 and $5,000.

He had expected to secure labor at a cheaper rate in Alabama, but work-

Building Lots For Sale

Atkins Park on St. Louis Place, adjoins the new brick bungalow. Price $2,500. East Lake Road, Druid Hills, fine elevated lot 60x300; gas, water and sewer; price $2,750. Bonaventure Ave., close to Ponce de Leon Ave., concrete street lot 50x175; price $1,500. Ten St., near Jackson St., facing Piedmont Park, 50x150; price $2,000; Jackson St., between 8th and 9th Sts., block from Piedmont Park, 50x150; price $2,000. Decatur lots on Hill St., McDonough and Adams Sts., 70x200; price $800. West End lots on Peoples St., Beecher St., and White St., 50x190; price $850.

ADAIR REALTY & TRUST CO.

Your Supply Base

You will find our Office Furniture-Department splendidly prepared to supply your every need in that line, including: Desk Chairs, Filing Cabinets, Lamps, and Plan Systems, Hat Racks, Waste Baskets, Chair Pads, etc.

FOOTE & DAVIES CO.

"Everything for the Office"

"Five Seconds From Five Points"

ALONZO RICHARDSON & CO.

Certified Public Accountants

MORTUARY B. M. Walton.

B. M. Walton, age 86, died Saturday night at 2 o'clock at his home at Newnan, Ga., and was buried at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with Masonic honors. He is survived by his children, O. H. Walton, E. L. Walton, J. T. Walton, Mrs. T. R. North and Mrs. T. J. Hendrix, all of Covett county; Mrs. F. N. Martin, O. P. Walton, of Atlanta, and James A. Walton, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Jack Thomason.

Jack Thomason, 15 years old, of Nelson, Ga., died Sunday afternoon at a private hospital. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thomason; one sister, Mrs. Carl Holcombe; one brother, Allen Thomason, and Howard E. Pelt, of the northern part of Cherokee county, Alabama, died at the family residence Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Ake Van Pelt.

Lyrly, Ga., November 20.—(Special.)—After a lingering illness of tuberculosis, Ake Van Pelt, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Pelt, of the northern part of Cherokee county, Alabama, died at the family residence Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

His parents, a number of brothers and sisters and other relatives. The funeral was held near Gaylesville, Ala., Saturday.

Buy Your Christmas Neckwear Here—Now Ties

A good tie, like beauty is more than skin deep. Unless it is made right and slips under the collar easily—into the discard it goes.

Our ties are not only tasty in appearance, but they are good. All silks—the newest knits, crochets and four-in-hands.

And prices are very moderate.

Brown & Tilly

Piedmont Hotel Bldg.

WE SELL FORD CARS

A. L. BELLE ISLE—IVY 507

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our precious wife and mother, who died on this day one year ago today, November 21st, 1920. "Gone but not forgotten."

Assignee's Sale

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned assignee, for the benefit of creditors, will sell by public auction, for cash, the stock of fixtures which inventory $100.00 and growing stock inventory $100.00, on the premises, No. 2114 West Mitchell street, Atlanta, Ga., on the 22nd day of November, 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m., formerly belonging to A. Seaberg, care of the Chamber of Commerce Building, City.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

H. B. Browder, J. H. Browder, H. M. Dorsey, W. P. Broadbent, Arthur Heyman, H. G. Stephens, Dorsey, Browder, Howell & Heyman, 507 to 521 Conally Building, Atlanta.

NOTICE TO BUILDING CONTRACTORS.

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the undersigned until 5 p. m., Monday, November 22, for erecting a library branch building, corner Belwood Avenue and Euclid Avenue, located in the 15th Ward. Plans and specifications can be had by calling at the office of the undersigned, second floor, City Hall.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE

few days; regulates the liver, kidneys, stomach and heart; purifies the blood, strengthens the entire system. Write for free trial treatment. COLUMBIA DROPSY REMEDY CO., Dept. F-57, ATLANTA, GA.

Lodge Notice

The regular communication of Lebanon Lodge No. 665, F. & A. M., will be held this day evening at Lebanon Temple, corner Georgia and North South Pryor street, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Candidates, please be present promptly. Visiting brethren cordially invited to meet with us. By order of W. O. KEY, W. M.

A special communication of Palestine Lodge No. 454, will be held in the Masonic Temple, corner Georgia and North South Pryor street, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, on Monday, November 21, 1921, at 7:30 o'clock. The following degrees will be conferred and other important business transacted. By order of JOHN E. DICK, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

A regular convocation of Atlanta Chapter No. 2, R. E. O., will be held in its assembly hall (Monday) evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason degree on a large class of candidates. The following degrees will be conferred. Candidates are requested to be on hand promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Location is cordially invited to meet with us. By order of FRANK L. BELLET, W. M.

Bankers Endorse Peachtree Property!

The Last Seven Pieces of Property Sold on This "THOROUGHFARE OF OPPORTUNITY" in the past 90 days were bought by seven BANKERS, four of them Atlantans, and three FROM OUT OF TOWN.

When BANKERS buy property, we may be sure THE INVESTMENT IS SOUND and BANKERS and BANK OFFICIALS OWN APPROXIMATELY 2,500 FEET OF PEACHTREE FRONTAGE BETWEEN FORREST AND NORTH AVENUES ALONE.

When these BANKERS saw PEACHTREE STREET being widened, white lights installed and retail business appearing thickly along the street, they saw SURE INVESTMENT coming and bought!

In view of these FACTS it does not take a wise man to see where business is moving and values are growing, and it is always safe to follow the lead of conservative BANKERS. Follow their example. Buy Peachtree Street property.

M. G. Kiser Real Estate Co.

"WE GET RESULTS"

Ivy 825 314 Candler Bldg